Marin Board, Alioto Differ On Key Issues

Bridge Unification, Commuter Tax Plan Argued At Lunch

By WAT TAKESHITA

The mayor asserted that this should be followed up by regional control of other services such as airports, water and air pollution and waste disposal.

"We must recognize the bay as one transportation unit," said Alioto. Unless something is done by 1969, the state Division of Highways might take over the bridges, he warned.

"A large share of the $30 million reserve in the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District came from Marin," said Chariman Ernest N. Kettenhofen. "I for one would oppose joining all the bridges at this time."

"Seventy per cent of the tolls are generated by Marin," said Supervisor Thomas T. Storer. He insisted that Marin-San Francisco transit should have priority rights on the Golden Gate Bridge revenues.

A bridge authority for all bay spans would be "a death blow in our time to San Francisco-Marin transit," declared Supervisor John F. McInnis. Financing from the bridge is needed for Marin-San Francisco transit. "Let's don't let it escape from us," said McInnis.

Alioto said his proposal is not inconsistent with Marin County's desire to retain bridge funds. He said priorities for allotting the bridge funds can be set up to assure financing of Marin-San Francisco transit.

In other areas such as pollution, waste disposal, and health planning, Marin supervisors agreed with Alioto that regional government is the ultimate answer.

Unser Turbo-Charged Racer Winner At Indy

Turbine Falters In Lead

Unser, 34, current national championship racing leader, scored his first Indy victory in six starts after polesitter Joe Leonard's flaming red turbine conked out with 22½ miles to go.

MASTERFUL RACE

Unser from Albuquerque, N.M., drove a masterful race, outlasting the challenges of Leonard and Lloyd Ruby in a sizzling race before an estimated Memorial Day throng of 300,000.

With a scorching pace set all the way, Unser was clocked in a record speed of 152.882 miles per hour.

Third was Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., and fourth went to New Zealand's Denis Hulme.

Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., was fifth.

The former record for the 200-lap grind around the speedway's 2½-mile oval was 151.207 m.p.h., set last year by A.J. Foyt.

Foyt, trying for an unprecedented fourth Indianapolis victory, had to quit on the 87th lap because of engine trouble.

Gurney's second place time, 152.187 m.p.h., also bettered the old record.

It was a plucky as well as a skillful performance by Bobby Unser, who knew his brother, Al, 29, lost a wheel and hit a wall on the 41st lap. He wasn't hurt.

BITTER DEFEAT

It was a bitter defeat for the heralded turbine trio which also included Art Pollard, Medford, Ore., who stalled on the 195th lap.

That was shortly after Leonard, who led the first seven laps in another turbine, and wrested the lead from Unser twice at the 111th and 176 laps, stalled on the 195th lap.

In the third turbine, Graham Hill lost a wheel and hit a wall on the 111th lap. He wasn't hurt.

Only 11 of the 33 starters were running at the finish of the bitterly contested showdown between the turbocars and piston machines. And only five cars went the full 500-mile distance.

The torried pace, juggled mainly among Bobby Unser, Leonard and Ruby, demolished the bid of defending champion Foyt and rubbed out the only

FRANC IN TROUBLE

De Gaulle Will Not Resign; Plans To Dissolve Assembly

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle said today he will stay in office to cope with the crisis that has paralyzed France. Rejecting any suggestion of resigning, he said he would dissolve the National Assembly and hold general elections.

De Gaulle addressed the nation in a special broadcast after a 47-minute emergency meeting with his cabinet in the Elysee Palace on how to resolve the strikes and violence that have brought the country to the brink of chaos. The French franc was in such bad shape European bankers were refusing to trade in it despite an emergency credit of $100 million to France from the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank.

Gaullists called for a massive demonstration in favor of the 77-year-old president in downtown Paris.

De Gaulle announced his decision after 24 hours of isolated thought at his country estate in Colombey-les-Deux Eglises, 110 miles east of Paris. He helicoptered into the capital early today under murky skies and began holding conferences with Premier Georges Pompidou and then with the cabinet.

In his address to the nation, he announced he would not drop Pompidou. There had been speculation he would, just as there had been speculation he would step out of office after 10 years in power.

His voice was firm, almost defiant as he spoke.

His address lasted six minutes.

He said he was postponing the national referendum he had called for June 16 to have the country vote on labor reform, the results of which he had declared would decide whether he would step down from office.

As he finished speaking, the strains of the Marseillaise, the French national anthem, was played.

As De Gaulle faced the moment of decision after a decade, almost to the day, of directing France's destiny, the franc was rejected for trading by banks in Switzerland and West Germany. Swiss bankers in Zurich warned the Western monetary system was endangered.

The usually well-informed newspaper Le Monde said De Gaulle would call general elections in France on June 23. The paper said De Gaulle was preparing to postpone by one week the June 16 referendum on labor reforms and hold it a week later together with elections.

The paper said De Gaulle planned "spectacular action" to try to end the crisis, which was draining France at the rate of $1 billion a week and threatening the country with civil war.

Preston Pal Describes Bullet Event

By STEPHEN COOK

Kenneth Allen Preston, the man accused of a double murder which included shooting, stabbing, raping and strangulation, could not stand the sight of blood.

Ronald Edward Long, a former roommate of the 20-year-old murder suspect, revealed this under cross examination yesterday, to a Marin Superior Court jury, which must decide whether Preston participated in the Jan. 12 killings of Curtis and Shirley Ackley in their Santa Venetia house trailer.

Long, who just began a state prision term for participating in a shoot-out with Marin and Sonoma sheriff's deputies at the time Preston was arrested, was called yesterday to testify against his former roommate.

Long told the jury he returned to his cabin the night the Ackleys were killed and found the car of Preston's co-defendant, Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, backed up to the front door.

Preston and Sommerhalder were inside, he said. There were some "extra guns" strewn about the cabin. Sommerhalder had a bullet in his bleeding right arm.

Long said he had to remove the bullet himself, using an hobbyists knife, normally used in wood carving, as a scalpel and whiskey as an antiseptic. Preston would not help.

"Ken would not come into the room when I was taking it out

MARIN REMEMBERS

Rites May Be Last At Doughboy Statue

A tradition in Marin for almost 50 years — Memorial Day services to honor this nation's war dead — were held today at the doughboy statue on the Courthouse lawn in San Rafael.

This year, however, may have been the last time the services will be conducted in front of the columned courthouse. It is to be vacated next fall with the opening of the new Hall of Justice at the Civic Center, and by next May the square may be no longer a park.

The services were sponsored by the Marin County Veterans and Auxiliaries Memorial Committee. Alfred T. Little is chairman this year of the committee, which includes nine Marin veterans' groups.

About 100 persons attended the services. Only a few were old enough to recall the doughboy's war, or even World War II.

Floral tributes were presented by veterans, civic and fraternal groups, and the Fourth Air Force Band from Hamilton Air Force Base played martial music as the colors were massed.

The salute was fired by M Company, Third Battalion, 23rd Marines of San Rafael.

Other services were held in Novato and Mill Valley.

In Novato, a plaque was unveiled in front of City Hall to honor all who have served in the U. S. Armed forces.

Commuters Safe; Bus Strike Off

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A strike by some 4,500 employees of Western Greyhound Lines in the 11 western states was averted when negotiators reached tentative agreement at 3 a.m. today.

The union had set a strike deadline at 12:01 a.m. Saturday. More than 4,000 Marin commuters depend on the bus.

Federal mediator Roger Randall announced the agreement between the company and the Amalgamated Transit Union, representing drivers, station employes, clerical and mechanical employes.

Randall said the settlement is subject to ratification by the union membership but the terms have the unanimous recommendation of the ATU negotiating council.

Half-Million Dollars In Dimes Is Hijacked

The tractor-trailer was stopped on Route 9W near Fort Lee, N.J., at 11 a.m. yesterday, but the hijacking was not discovered until the driver was released in Ulster County later in the day.

Firm Balks At Revealing Bridge Data

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

An engineering firm that has proposed it subcontract repairs of the Golden Gate Bridge for $320,000 has refused to explain how it arrived at the figure, a bridge and highway district director said yesterday.

Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, who opposes the proposed subcontract, told the Independent-Journal that the president of Ammann and Whitney, Milton Brumer, had refused his request for details of the cost.

Leonoudakis said the district's engineer, Robert E. Shields, reported that Brumer said it was not the firm's policy "to furnish this type of data when it concerns a subcontract work."

Ammann and Whitney recommended the repair work when it found unexpected rust in major suspension cables during the course of a $275,000 inspection of the bridge. In addition to the $320,000 subcontract with the American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel, Brumer estimated the cost of additional engineering by his firm at $140,000.

These fees, plus $265,000 paid for a second deck study, would bring to $680,000 fees paid to Ammann and Whitney by the bridge district in the past year.

District directors this month also asked Ammann and

Debate Slated

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy have agreed to meet in an hour-long televised debate Saturday night, the American Broadcasting Company said Today.

LBJ Bows To Budget Cuts For Tax Hike

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said today for the first time that he will accept a $6 billion cut in spending in return for congressional approval of his proposal for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

The President's announcement given to reporters and the nation at a televised and broadcast news conference here, will probably assure congressional action in the next few weeks on the long-stalled measure.

It will mean higher taxes for most Americans.

Johnson noted that the House refused yesterday to limit any spending reduction to the $4 billion figure he had previously said he would accept.

"So the only choice remaining is whether the need for a tax increase is so urgent that we must accept the $6 billion reduction," he said, adding "I believe that the need for a tax increase is that urgent. I believe that the national interest requires the tax increase as soon as possible."

Johnson called for prompt action on the measure, tied to another bill extending excise taxes on cars and phone calls, and said if Congress votes the bill "I shall approve it."

Johnson also told Hanoi today that the United States is "ready to go far and fast" toward a peace in Vietnam if the Communists will do likewise.

Johnson added that so far he cannot report to the American people any substantive progress in the U.S.-North Vietnamese talks now underway in Paris.

But he reviewed the steps the United States has taken to bring the war to an end—including his March 31 bombing cutback order and his announcement not to seek reelection—and he declared:

"We shall continue to do everything we now how to do to bring peace to the world."

Australian prime minister John Gorton, Mrs. Gorton, Mrs. Johnson, and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Vietnam were present at the press conference.

Johnson said that over the years the United States has found no better friend in battle than the Australians.

"The war is not being fought in Vietnam simply by Americans," he said. "Together we shall bring a just peace to Southeast Asia. That is our only objective."

Westmoreland, joining the conference discussion, said it is estimated there are about 90,000 North Vietnamese soldiers in the south and that more are arriving every day.

West German Police Mop Up On Students

BONN (UPI)—West German police today cracked down and arrested 20 demonstrating leftist students making one final, noisy protest against the impending passage of sweeping "emergency laws" which would give the Bonn regime dictatorial powers in times of war or naianal crisis.

As the West German Parliament met in Bonn to begin final passage of the controversial bill, several members said they had received anonymous letters threatening to kill them if they voted for the bill.

Worker Kills Two Clerks In Stockton

STOCKTON (UPI) — A young farm worker strolled into a clothing store yestserday, picked out four items of apparel, then methodically killed two clerks and wounded two others, police said.

He fled an exchange of bullets, leaving the $3,193 he had robbed, and forced two teen-age sisters to drive him 90 miles to San Francisco where he released them at a bus terminal.

It had been a quiet afternoon until the stranger, identified as Balazar Estolas, 29, of Twitchell Island, walked into Mariani Mens and Boys Clothing Store, chose a hat, two shirts and a pair of slacks and turned toward the checkout counter.

Estolas, an asparagus cutter recently discharged from the U.S. Marines, took several steps, police said, then pulled out a .38-caliber pistol and shot Pellegrini Chieiri, 24, dead at point-blank range.

The gunman scooped $3,193 from the register and mortally wounded Giosu (Joe) Mariani, 74. Two other clerks — Teresa Vizcarra, 16, and Thomas V. Gonzales, 38—were hit by two more slugs. Neither wound was serious.

After exchanging four shots with a next - door liquor store clerk who had been summoned by a fifth store employee, the robber tossed his money bag into the rear seat of his car, then changed his getaway plans, and bolted towards a car leaving the store's parking lot.

Police said Estolas leaped into the vehicle, driven by Ramona Reynaga, 18, Stockton, and carrying her 14-year-old sister Lydia, and forced them to drive him to San Francisco.

Yale Chaplain Explains Conscience Role In Trial

BOSTON (UPI)—The Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr. believes the Vietnam war and the draft are issues of conscience and says his antiwar and antidraft action had been taken "in order to precipitate a test case and to challenge the government to a moral confrontation."

The Yale University chaplain, on trial in U.S. District Court in Boston with Dr. Benjamin Spock and three others for antidraft conspiracy, testified yesterday he opposed the Vietnam war and the draft to "challenge the government to a moral confrontation." He said it was a matter of consicence.

Coffin emphasized the matter of consicence. He defended it by saying it meant "the moral capacity of every man to say something is right or something is wrong." He said to deny it was "to deny that which is the essential of every man."

Poor People's Race Friction Into Open

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Friction between blacks and Mexican-Americans burst into an exchange of obscenities and near fist fights at a Poor People's Campaign "unity rally" which lasted into the early hours of today.

The bitter confrontation at the first mass rally of the campaign here last night climaxed the stormiest day of the poor people's march on Washington.

Earlier, Indians had pounded on the doors of the Supreme Court shouting for "justice" and a group of Negro youths, whom march leaders said weren't part of the campaign, broke windows in the historic court building.

Seven people were arrested.

Demonstrators returned for the third day at the Agriculture Department demanding to eat at the cafeteria there. They were fed, after agreeing to pay for their meals. One demonstrator, a victim of diabetes, died.

The top District of Columbia health official, Dr. Murray Grant, raised the possibility that he would have to close the poor people's Resurrection City because of health hazards brought on by more than a week of foul weather.

A medical committee working with the campaign denied that health problems were increasing and expressed doubt that Grant had the authority to close the camp because it is on federal land.

Negro Looters Killed In Louisville Unrest

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Two Negro youths who police said were looting were shot to death early today and two other Negroes were wounded by gunfire in the city's tense West Side.

The deaths were the first since violence erupted in the predominantly Negro area during a rally Monday night. One of the victims was 14 years old.

Police said James Groves, 14, was shot by a white patrolman while he and four other Negroes fled from a grocery store that had been looted. Patrolman Charles S. Noe fired his revolver into the crowd of fleeing youths after a fellow officer fired a warning shot, police said.

The other youth shot was identified as Matthias Browder, 19, who, police said, was shot by a white liquor store owner while the store was being looted. The owner, W.J. Berger, was arrested and charged with manslaughter.

National Guard troops, their force increased to 1,300 men, were on standby alert. The Guard was taken off the streets at 4:30 p.m. yesterday when the volunteer marshals went on duty.

Col. Bert Hawkins of the Louisville Police Department said the marshals have not restored peace. "They have not been successful," he said.

Only scattered incidents of looting and one fire, which firemen said was accidental, occurred yesterday prior to the shootings.

Thirty-two persons were arrested last night and today on charges of looting and loitering, bringing to 219 the total arrested.

Anti-Missile Base Site Sought In Area

The Air Force wants to locate a $50 million anti-missile missile base in the Bay Area, and Marin could be one of the areas under consideration, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto disclosed yesterday during a luncheon with the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors Thomas T. Storer and William A. Gnoss immediately put in a plug for the Tomales area of North Marin as suitable locations.

Mayor Alioto said Air Force officials disclosed that the missile base would be a major one, bringing a payroll of $2.5 to $3 million. Alioto said Air Force officials would meet with him in San Francisco at 10 a.m. June 7 to give further details.

The mayor assured Marin supervisors he plans to make no commitments with the Air Force until he has met with other Bay Area counties because he considers this a regional matter.

Sotorer said Tomales is far from population centers and would be a suitable site because of low land cost. "I submit this may be a good place to put it, although I'd rather have the $50 million spent on disarmament."

Supervisor John F. McInnis agreed with Storer that he would like to see the missile base in Marin. "It might be wise to refer this to the executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments."

Gnoss, who represents North Marin, said his area is agricultural, has access to water and rail transportation, and would be a suitable location.

Preston Pal Describes Surgery In His Cabin

because he didn't want to see the blood. He was afraid he would get sick," Long recalled.

The bullet he removed from Sommerhalder's arm was .38 caliber, Long said. He testified that he loaned the loaded gun of the same caliber to Preston the afternoon of the Marin County killings.

"Ken gave it back to me that night. It had one empty shell in it," Long said.

Richard A. Sommerhalder, brother of the murder suspect, testified Tuesday that John Sommerhalder told him he and Preston were ransacking the Ackley's trailer house when the couple walked in and "someone's gun was half cocked and it went off. I got shot."

Long testified that when he removed the slug from Sommerhalder's arm, he drilled a hole through it, attached it to a chain and gave it to the wounded man.

"He said he wanted it," Long recalled.

Long described Sommerhalder — walking around the house that night, wearing a six-shooter and holster which witnesses have testified came from the Ackley trailer house.

There were several new guns and knives, plus a crossbow, in Preston's bedroom, Long said. The weapons taken from that bedroom by sheriff's deputies have been identified as having come from the trailer house.

Edwin Verzyl, attorney for Preston, pressed an argument during cross examination that the weapons may have been brought to the cabin by Sommerhalder alone to be sold to Long.

"Wasn't that house used from time to time as a depository for various items stolen from the Santa Rosa area?" he asked.

"Yes," said Long.

"Didn't you participate from time to time in a fencing operation, buying and selling stolen goods?" Verzyl asked.

"Occassionally," Long admitted.

Long told the jury that John Sommerhalder knew of the fencing operation and admitted that there was no reason why Preston, if he was home, would not have opened the door for him that night and helped him carry in the stolen goods.

Sommerhalder was president of the Grim Reapers, the motorcycle gang to which Preston also belonged, Long said.

Long admitted that he, as well as Preston, had bushy blond hair and a beard at the time of the Ackley murders. Actually, he said, he had been mistaken for Preston at times.

Judy Garrett, a Santa Rosa secretary, testified yesterday that she saw Sommerhalder and a bushy-haired blond riding northbound in Marin County at 11:20 p.m. the night the couple was killed.

Under direct examination, Long told the jury that Preston bought a box of .32 pistol shells the day of killing. The Ackleys were slain with .32 caliber bullets.

He recalled seeing Preston and Sommerhalder burning papers in Preston's room early on the morning after the murders. When he complained about the smoke, the pair took the remaining papers out to an incinerator.

A Marin sheriff's deputy has testified that he retrieved Shirley Ackley's half-burned union card from that incinerator.

Long was sentenced to 10 years in prison after pleading guilty to assault with a deadly weapon during that battle. Caswell was released on the day of his trial when the Sonoma County district attorney reported that evidence showed the assault was committed by Long, not Caswell.

Sommerhalder is scheduled to be tried, separately, beginning the week of June 10, for the murder of the Ackleys.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sent the Preston trial jury home at noon yesterday, telling them that because of holidays and court schedules, they need not return until 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The trial will formally begin at 10 a.m. Wednesday, he said, with lawyers arguing over the admissability of a statement made by Preston to Undersheriff Sidney Stinson.

Mystery Message Spurs Sub Hunt; May Be Hoax

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) —Ten destroyers conducted an intensive search of the Atlantic 110 miles off Norfolk today after six ships and a plane picked up a mysterious radio voice message using the code name of the missing USS Scorpion.

After some hours, the search ships reported they had failed to find any trace of the nuclear submarine which has been overdue since Monday with 99 men aboard. There was also no repeat of the single radio transmission.

High Defense Department sources said there was "a 99 per cent chance" the transmission was a hoax.

At the same time, the vessels checked out debris spotted by a Navy P2V Neptune submarine spotter plane which picked up the "single transmission." The message also was received by six ships of the search fleet trying to locate the Scorpion, missing since Monday on an underwater voyage from the Mediterranean. Its last reported position was near the Azores.

The Defense Department quoted the transmission as saying: "Any station this net (network)—this is the (code word for the Scorpion)." The code name is classified.

Six Navy destroyers in the general area where the search plane was operating, 110 miles east from the Scorpion's home base at Norfolk, immediately began an intensive search. Four more destroyers were dispatched to join them.

Officials said that if the message actually originated from the Scorpion in the area where the plane picked it up, it likely would be too far down for normal rescue operations. The ocean is 12,000 feet deep at that spot—far below the operating depth of any sub.

While this localized search went on, other Navy vessels covered other parts of the track which was to have been followed by the Scorpion on its 2,100-mile trip from the Azores. And planes continued search runs all across the Atlantic.

Foyt, winner in 1961, 1964 and last year with a record 151.207 m.p.h., was forced out on the 89th lap with engine trouble after rsnning no better than fifth.

Hill, the 1966 champion in his Indianapolis debut, lost a wheel on the 111th lap, and hit the southeast wall but escaped injury.

The debonair former world road racing champion had been running a smooth fourth in his swooshing turbine car, laying back just behind teammate Leonard most of the way before his crackup.

The third car in the controversial turbine entry, driven by Art Pollard, lagged well behind most of the way, needing a 90-second pit inspection at 150 miles.

While Leonard, Bobby Unser and Ruby were alternating in their hot battle for the lead, mechanical failures were cutting a wide swath in the widely spread field.

After the first 75 miles, six cars were out of the race and after 400 miles, 16 machines were disabled.

Bobby Unser's brother, Al, lost a wheel and hit the southwest wall on the 41st lap to light the yellow caution light for the first time. Another brother of Bobby's, Jerry, was killed at Indy in 1959 in a practice run.

The yellow light, requiring the drivers to slacken and hold their positions, flashed five times for a total of 34 minutes.

The third time it flashed at the 127th lap when Billy Vukovich, 24, Fresno, Calif., one of two competing sons of former racing stars killed at Indy, was involved in a harmless three-car spin.

Red Attack Beaten Off At Outpost

SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese troops hurling grenades as they ran broke into a U.S. Army infantry outpost near Dak To in the Central Highlands today. The Americans beat back the attack, killing about 150 of the Communists, U.S. military sources said.

As the new fighting flared the American military command announced more Americans fell in Vietnam battles last week than during any week since the opening of President Johnson's peace offensive two months ago. American killed and wounded during the week ended Saturday numbered 3,113, including 426 dead and 2,687 wounded.

Last week's deaths brought total American dead in the Vietnam War to 23,926. Total wounded was listed at 146,363 and those missing or captured at 1,215. Communist dead last week was listed at 2,550, the lowest since the week ending April 20 when 1,899 were reported killed.

Along Vietnam's northern frontier below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), U.S. Marines continued to press toward two small villages where an estimated 2,900 North Vietnamese troops were entrenched. The villages of Lai An and Truc Kin were within seven miles of the Marine supply base of Dong Ha which has been the focal point of heavy fighting for a month.

Spokesmen said at least 10 Marines were killed and 4 were seriously wounded early today in the attack. No estimates of Communist dead were available because the Americans were unable to penetrate their positions.

In Saigon early today four Communist rockets fell on a residential area and killed at least five persons and wounded eight. South Vietnamese Rangers continued to battle a Viet Cong company holed up in the Phu Lam district west of the city. U.S. helicopter gunships strafed the area with rockets and machinegun fire.

ALIOTO

ture that would be acceptable.

On a proposed commuter tax by San Francisco, both Mayor Alioto and Marin supervisors came away politely but firmly at odds.

The Mayor insisted he must find some source of income such as the commuter tax to give relief to "beleaguered" home owners in San Francisco. The tax on homeowners in San Francisco jumped because of state legislation (AB-80) passed last year, requiring assessors to assess homes on the same basis as commercial property.

"If you have beleaguered taxpayers, ours are more beleaguered," said Kettenhofen. He said the jump in homeowner taxes in San Francisco brings their burden in line with what homeowners in every other county have been paying for years.

"Because you had a dishonest assessor (Russell Wolden)," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr, "the San Francisco homeowners enjoyed the fruits of his illegality."

Supervisor Storer described the commuter tax as unconstitutional. "It should not be imposed at the expense of our commuters."

"Don't take taxes off our people to help your people," added Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

Compared with the average homeowner in San Francisco, the Marin homeowner already pays about $100 more per year, said Gnoss.

Supervisor McInnis pointed out that "core cities" like San Francisco will be facing severe problems faced by other cities like Chicago and Detroit. Sympathy is growing for the core cities, said McInnis. He asked Mayor Alioto not to "upset or alienate this budding sympathy by the commuter tax." Without support and sympathy from the suburbs, core cities can face disaster, warned McInnis.

Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell asserted that total cost to San Francisco city government for services provided to commuters comes to $4.3 million "using your (San Francisco) figures."

Mitchell said his computation shows San Francisco gets in return about $17 million in revenue from the commuters. Mitchell and County Administrator Alan Bruce produced a three-page analysis to back up their claim that San Francisco gets more from commuters than it gives in services.

"Last year, the tax rate in San Frnacisco was $8.80, whereas the average tax rate in Marin was $10.67," said Mitchell.

Mayor Alioto insisted that the San Francisco homeowners should not have to bear the brunt of the cost of city government. He said he would argue his case for the commuter or earnings tax before his board of supervisors and invited Marin officials to speak in rebuttal at that time.

The next luncheon between Alioto and Marin supervisors will be held in San Francisco Sept. 25.

Man, 25, Arrested In Bad Check Case

A 25-year-old San Rafael man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of writing a check on a closed account.

Mauel Goyhenetche of 231 Marin Street cashed a check for $160 at Davis Saw Service in San Rafael, police said. He was released on $1,000 bail and will appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The runoffs were held after none of the candidates attained a majority vote in school elections held Friday, according to Janice Howard, commissioner of student affairs.

New Guinea Art Treasure Discovered

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — New Guinea tribal art believed brought to the United States about 1885 has been sold to Southern Illinois University for $11,000.

The 500-piece collection was rediscovered about three years ago in an attic at Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa. SIU officials at Carbondale said the collection may have been brought to this country by Lutheran missionaires who visited New Guinea in 1885.

Whitney to draw up a proposal for the cost of preparing a design and cost estimate for a $12-million toll plaza project.

"It all doesn't add up," Leonoudakis said of the unexplained $320,000 subcontract. "How can I as a director pass on a contract of this magnitude without this kind of information?" he asked.

Even if the cost of the subcontract proved fair, he said, "the law explicitly requires that repair work that exceeds $5,000 must go out to competitive bids."

The position of the district's attorney, Jerome B. White of San Francisco, is that the proposed contract would be part of the inspection contract, thus it would not be for repair work, Leonoudakis said.

Leonoudakis, an attorney, added it was "pretty obvious" that the replacement of rusted cables would be "repair," and not an "inspection."

Another director, George H. Ludy of Inverness, told the I-J he would support Leonoudakis' demand that the repair work be put out to competitive bid. He rarely agrees with Leonoudakis, but said he was convinced to do so this time because of Brumer's refusal to explain the $320,000.

Marin's other representative on the bridge board, Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, could not be reached for comment on what he intends to do when the matter comes before the full board at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in the administration building at the toll booth plaza.

Merchandise Theft Reported

Theft of an unknown amount of merchandise from a San Rafael garage used as a warehouse was reported to police yesterday.

Robert Edward De Walt of 54 Durham Road, San Anselmo, who uses a garage at 1523 Lincoln Avenue to store Jewel Tea merchandise, told police that the lock had been pried from the door of the garage.

A transistor radio had been stolen, he said, but he could not tell what else was missing until he received an invoice from his company.

Car Runs Right Through Garage

A service station employee who was returning a car to a Mill Valley home yesterday afternoon went through the rear of the garage when the brakes failed and the car landed upside down on a 25-foot embankment below the garage.

Gregory V. Rossoff, 21, of 1 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scalp cuts.

Span Change Bills Backed By Council

Members of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night agreed to support two legislative measures which, if adopted, would alter the present makeup of the Golden Gate Bridge District Board of Directors.

They endorsed Assembly Bill 175, authored by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, and Assembly Bill 2057, authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, according to Walter E. Zurcher, chairman.

The Foran bill would add three members to the bridge board, two from Marin County and one from San Francisco. It also would authorize the bridge district to expand its activities into all modes of transportation, including ferries.

The council members also agreed to support the transportation work program and budget proposed by Seymor Kashin, general manager of the Marin Transit District, Zurcher said. Representatives of the council will attend the transit district meeting on Wednesday, he said.

Coed, 18, Held As Suspect In Fatal Dorm Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—An Ohio State University coed was held today on an arson charge in connection with a high-rise dormitory fire which claimed the lives of two women residents.

Harriet Frances Leeb, 18, South Euclid, Ohio, a freshman in the College of Arts and Sciences, was named yesterday in an affidavit filed by O.R. Starr, chief of the OSU police department, which said she "did commit arson by maliciously burning."

Miss Leeb was taken into custody earlier yesterday as a material witness and freed on $25,000 bond. Later she was charged, bond was set by another judge at $25,000 and she was held in Franklin County jail.

Several hours after the early morning blaze, Pamela Sue Patterson, 18, Ludlow Falls, Ohio, died at University Hospital. Early Wednesday, after Miss Leeb was taken into custody, Rhetta Foster, 22, Colorado Springs, Colo., died at University Hospital. She had been in critical condition since the fire.

Extortion Charge Shown In Booking

Daniel Lee Lewis, also known as Rick Herd, 22, of Alameda, was booked into county jail last evening by Mill Valley police on suspicion of extortion.

Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich said the report on the arrest was incomplete, but would be available tomorrow.

Picnic To Raise Funds For Poor People's Journey

The Mill Valley Human Rights Committee will sponsor a benefit picnic on June 15 to raise funds for Marin City residents who wish to attend the Poor People's March in Washington, D.C.

Meyer Baylin of Mill Valley and James Symons, associate pastor of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City, have been named picnic co-chairmen, according to Alan Barnett, committee spokesman. The picnic has been tentatively scheduled for Boyle Park, he said.

Action groups to study education, employment, housing and police-community relations were organized at the human rights committee meeting Tuesday night. The "educational encounter" group, a fifth action group, will work to change attitudes of persons within the committee and in the community at large, Barnett said.

Two Children Die In Cupertino Fire

CUPERTINO (AP) — Two children died in an explosive fire that destroyed their home here last night. A neighbor suffered third degree burns but rescued their sister.

The senior Hodhapp, a 28-year-old television engineer, was at work, neighbors said, when what sounded like an explosion was heard and the house burst into flames.

ART REVIEW

Pop Objects Found In Non-Pop Works

By LAURA DEVENDORF

ACTUAL TECHNIQUE

With the Pop question out of the way, it is alos easier to appreciate what Thiebaud actually does. His efforts have little, if anything, to do with social comments, even on our collective eating habits. The initial awareness of his paintings' content quickly fades before their more powerful qualities, those of crisp organization, of exaggerated reality and of texture, color and design.

Of these, texture is foremost. Thiebaud's similarities between food and paint are remarkable as he matches the consistency of oils to that of meringue, the stickyness of candy, the creamy lickability of ice cream and the oily slickness of lipstick.

STRONG DESIGN

There is also inherent strength in the simple geometry of his pie wedges and the smooth circles of soup bowls, plates of appetizers, lollypops, cakes and yo-yos.

This geometric aspect is most obvious in Thiebaud's prints. Minus color and the tactile impasto of his painting technique, the awareness is more of design than of subject. And within the print group, the woodcuts show it most clearly.

In painting, Thiebaud emphasizes design by placing still life objects against wide white grounds. He uses the same method with figures which are also precisely detailed in contrast to the pristine vacancy of their surroundings. As figurative forms, this lack of human environment exaggerates their realism. As human beings, it makes them become strangely disoriented, arrested in time, suspended in space and all the more dynamic for their isolation.

While interest centers on Theibaud's figures and foods, his pastel landscapes shouldn't be overlooked. Their restraint reflects his other work but their realism is softer, more nostalgic, clearly explaining the artist's disavowal of the Pop or social comment label.

Thiebaud had made the very agreeable statement. ". . . a paintng as such is neither a better nor worse painting because of the amount of social comment it contains." And the landscapes should prove to anyone that he has never needed to rely on that ephemeral aid to bring attention to his art.

Officers Elected For Arts Center

They are: Russ Compton chairman; Maxine White, vice chairman; Lyle Stafford, treasurer; Helen Drefus, membership; Ann Anderson, house chiarman; Bette Jarboe, publicity chairman; Sali Lieberman, managing director; and A. J. Esta, artistic director.

The center is currently presenting John Patrick's comedy, "The Curious Savage," Friday and Saturday nights, 8:30 p.m. at the Mill Valley clubhouse through June 15. Sunday night James Broughton will once again show his award winning film, "The Bed."

Turner Rips Order On Garrison

A federal court order restraining New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison was blasted yesterday by William W. Turner of Mill Valley, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Sixth Congressional District, as "an extraordinary and unprecedented case of federal interference."

Turner, a former FBI agent, criticized the order which restrained Garrison from further prosecution of Clay Shaw for conspiracy to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

The temporary order was issued on the basis that if the Warren Report conclusion that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President Kennedy alone is correct, Shaw could not have been implicated, Turner said.

Speaking at a meeting of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club at the Woodlands restaurant in Kentfield, Turner declared the Warren Report was an administrative finding without legal validity.

"It is obvious that federal authorities are determined to abort the course of justice by preventing the Shaw trial," Turner said.

Marijuana Case Goes To Juvenile Court

Case of Albert Richard Malone, 19, charged with marijuana possession, was certified in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to Juvenile Court for handling as a minor.

Malone, of 3 Carter Avenue, Mill Valley, is accused of having the marijuana on May 12.

Rally For Rev. Banks Is Scheduled Saturday

There will be a rally for Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., candidate for supervisor in the Third District, at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Starting at 7 p.m. there will be a motorcade through Marin City to attract residents to the rally, reported Mrs. Verna Bynum, campaign publicity chairman.

Banks will unveil a pictorial presentation of his concept for redevelopment of the land east of Highway 101, along Richardson Bay.

The drawings by architect Charles Warren Callister depict the community complex which Banks believes will attract visitors and provide employment for Marin City residents.

Members of the Ashanti, a black culture organization, and Marin entertains, including Nathaniel Johnson and Margo Jones, are scheduled to perform.

A group of "Banks Girls," wearing brilliant sashes emblazoned, "I'm in the ranks with Banks" will open the rally with a dance, reported Mrs. Bynum.

In his bayside proposal Banks envisions a series of pyramid-shaped structures which would house industries, educational facilities, residential units, a heliport and trans-bay ferry moorings.

He proposed that "the people of Marin City join with all other people in the Third District" and seek funds from private enterprise, the state and federal goverment to pay for the project.

"This emergency measure is necessary to bridge the social and economic gap that retards progress in Southern Marin," he said. "Let us develop a workable plan to allow Marin City to become an integral part of the county and to make its contribution to the advancement of Marvelous Marin."

The show is open to all artists wishing to participate, Mrs. Lee said.

Purse Snatchers Plague Family

Last Friday, two boys on bicycles made an unsuccessful try to snatch a purse from Mrs. Mary B. Vetromile, of 127 Buchanan Drive, while she was walking near Wateree Street.

Tuesday noon, her daughter, Donna Vetromile, was walking home from the Marin City bus stop. Three youths approached her at the Highway 101 underpass, asked for a cigarette, and then snatched her purse containing $7 cash and two checks totaling $29.

WITH RACIST NOTE

Woman's Car Gutted By Deliberate Blaze

A 1968 convertible Camaro Chevrolet belonging to a young San Rafael woman went up in flames yesterday, apparently set on fire by a Negro who felt that a white girl didn't deserve such a car.

Vera Camporeale of 2233 Fifth Avenue told police that she ran out of her home yesterday about 3 p.m. when she heard a neighbor screaming and found her car in flames.

On the front porch of her home was a note, she said, printed in purple crayon on binder paper.

The message was:

"You got no right to own car. I hate you. I fix car good now. You white bitch. I have no car like this. You have none to. (too) I hate all white people. A Negro."

Miss Camporeale did not know who could have set the car on fire or left the note, she told police.

The fire was started in the inside of the car, which was destroyed. Firemen estimated the damage at $1,500.

In the gas tank was found an eraser with about two and a half feet of string tied to it and dangling out of the tank.

The string partially burned, police said, who theorized that the arsonist hoped for an explosion or larger fire.

Deputy Chief Joseph J. Brusatori said that he had not ruled out the possibility that the arsonist was not a Negro and that the note was left to add further confusion.

Escapers' Car Found In Oregon

A car used by two escapees from the Atascadero State Hospital for the criminally insane was found yesterday by police in Portland, Ore.

The finding of the vehicle — stolen in San Francisco by Gerard Gallant, a Los Angeles robber-rapist, and George Quinlan, committed as insane after a shootout with Los Angeles police — cast doubt on a possible sighting of the pair in San Rafael the day before.

A waitress and a cook in a San Rafael restaurant, after seeing pictures of the pair told police they believed they had served a meal Wednesday to the fugitives.

Employees Vote To End Potato Chips Walkout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Driver-salesmen who struck four Northern California potato chip firms five weeks ago have approved a new three-year contract.

Results of a mail ballot—197 for, 114 against — were announced yesterday by the Teamsters Union.

The 350 employees work for Granny Goose, Laura Scudder, Bell Brands and Frito-Lay plants located from San Jose to Marysville.

The new pact raises their basic pay guarantee $10 a week to $156, retroactive to March 4. In each of the next two years they get another $8 a week. Bases at which commissions are also paid will be progressively lowered, the union announcement said.

Motorcyclist Hurt As Vehicle Hits Bump

A San Rafael motorcyclist was injured yesterday when he hit a bump in a dirt track near China Camp and flew over the handlebars landing on his back.

California To Decide If Kennedy Stays In

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who said he needed a win in Oregon to remain a "viable" Presidential candidate, now says next week's California primary is the "ultimate test" of his candidacy.

He expects to win in California. But his stunning defeat in Oregon—the first in the Kennedy clan's skein of 22 years in elective politics—has forced him to change his tactics.

Kennedy announced yesterday he is now willing to debate Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the Oregon victor, on television. Prevously, the New York Seator had insisted that the third contender for the Democratic nomination—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey—must appear in any debates. He said yesterday he would debate with McCarthy whether Humphrey appeared or not.

The networks have made various offers to the candidates to appear.

Kennedy also hinted he would withdraw from the Presidential race if he didn't win in Oregon. Asked whether he would consider California the "ultimate test," Kennedy said, "That would come close to describing how I feel...I will abide by the result of that test." McCarthy, informed of Kennedy's statement, said simply, "I don't have any plans to drop out. I don't know what his (Kennedy's) plans are, but I said I'm going to keep campaigning until Chicago.

Humphrey, meanwhile, remained the strongest of the three contenders. Even though McCarthy's Oregon upset improved his position, the Vice President still held the biggest share of firmly committed delegate votes to the national convention in Chicago.

McCarthy increased his total of firm delegate votes to 231. But Humphrey, who has not run in any of the primaries, leads with 378 1-2 while Kennedy has 175 1-2. A total of 1,312 votes is needed to nominate.

On the Republican side, Nixon won all 18 of Oregon's Republican convention votes, running his total to 344. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had 77, Gov. Ronald Reagan 24 and Harold E. Stassen 1.

Microphones Taken

Two hand microphones were stolen from a locked cabinet in a classroom at Terra Linda High School yesterday, San Rafael police said. The microphones were valued at $49.95.

Safe, Money Stolen In Terra Linda

A safe containing money, certificates and a coin collection which had been hidden in a second-floor bedroom closet was stolen from a Terra Linda home yesterday.

Theodore Schuler of 295 Devon Drive told police that his wife discovered the thieft about 7 p.m.

Schuler told police that the safe contained over $1,000 in cash, which included 50-cent pieces, silver certificates, $2 bills and silver dollars.

Also in the safe were a $5,000 bank certificate and two stock certificates worth $1,480 and a coin collection of unknown value. The family's life insurance policies and other papers were also in the safe as well as jewelry valued at $180.

Police said that the burglar may have entered through an unlocked window off the patio.

Planning, Engineering Combination Debated

The Mill Valley City Council last night debated a move to revamp the city's community development department with emphasis on engineering rather than planning.

Councilman George E. Wickham offered the reorganization proposal as councilmen reviewed the proposed $1,351,000 operating budget for 1968-69.

He proposed that the city consolidate planning and engineering in one department and hire a fulltime engineer to head it.

Planner Harvey E. Bragdon now heads the community development department, and the city hires an engineering consultant, Stanley M. Bala on a monthly retainer.

Wickham contended that the city required engineering services "more of the time than let's say planning." Furthermore, Wickham said, whenever there is a large planning project the city usually hires an outside consultant.

Councilman Robert H. Andersen said he would like to explore the possiblity of hiring a fulltime engineer, "not necessarily to the exclusion of Bragdon's position."

He contended that he would be unwilling to make a change unless there would be substantial savings to the city, and he asked for a report on engineering costs, both for federal work and special projects.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer and planning commissioner Robert E. Burton both spoke of the importance of the present emphasis on planning, with the mayor, however, willing to consider changes.

Burton praised the present system whereby a fulltime planner works with a retained engineer, and said it was "the envy of the county."

City Mgr. Bert Balmer reported that he would study both the community development department and proposed engineering department, and give the staff recommendation on the need for either or both.

There could be either two departments, one combined department or one department "and a consultant," he noted.

Councilmen agreed the city "is getting its money's worth" from the services provided by Bala, but delved into engineering costs.

They said their probing was no reflection on Bala, but noted there had been rumors around the city that engineering costs were more than $50,000 a year, and felt the facts should be aired to dispel rumors.

Bala reported that his retainer is $755 a month plus car cost of 10 cents a mile, and his charges on subdivisions are paid by the subdivider.

At the outset of the session, Andersen contended that this year's budget format is confusing.

City Mgr. Balmer has divided the budget into three parts, the operating budget $1,351,000 with a tax levy of $2.30, a progress budget of $147,000 which would cover additional employees and equipment with a tax rate of 45 cents, and a $777,750 capital improvements budget with tax rate of 58 cents.

Balmer's proposed $2,276,746 total fiscal program for 1968-69 would require a total tax rate of $3.33 per $100 assessed valuation. This year's budget of $1,800,529 has a tax rate of $2.325.

Balmer said the new format shows more clearly "the cost of operating the city without any changes."

In the past the council has received the total budget based on staff recommendations, he said. Under the new system, the council sees the total needs without recommmendations and has the leeway "as to what they want to put in or leave out," Balmer reported.

The proposed community development budget was $54,366 as compared to $52,630 in the current year.

Councilmen also reviewed without making any changes the sewer plant budget, $62,588, up from $56,720; sewer lines, $34,396, up from $30,988; parking facilities $17,142, up from $16,855; drainage control, minor creeks, $4,400, down from $5,300; library, $116,893, up from $111,747; bond interest and redemption, $113,888, up from $68,323; retirement fund, $85,870, up from $82,100; equipment replacement, $15,250, down from $24,750; parks $79,298, up from $76,712; recreation, $31,627, down from $33,625; and golf course, $45,053, down from $46,080.

Councilmen also discussed street, drainage and sewer lines problems with residents of Una Way, and agreed to determine how much the city could contribute toward improvements, estimated to cost from $18,000 to $20,000.

The council will meet in regular session at 8 p.m. Monday at City Hall and resume budget discussions, covering the progress and capital improvement budgets, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at City Hall.

Sausalito Joint Session Put Off

The joint meeting of the Sausalito City Council and Planning Commission scheduled for next Wednesday has been canceled, it was announced at city hall yesterday.

The two groups were to study the central waterfront plan. The council has been heavily involved in budget sessions and has not had time to study the plan properly, City Clerk Miriam Ansell said.

The commission will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

'Gag Ruling' Is Charged By Arrigoni

Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., candidate for supervisor from the Second District, yesterday charged the incumbent, Ernest N. Kettenhofen, with "gag ruling" at a session of the supervisors Tuesday.

Kettenhofen refused to hear audience comments on removal of Highway 17 from the state highway system, he said. Residents had waited four hours to speak on the matter, and Kettenhofen "used a purely political parlimentary device to prevent them from being heard," Arrigoni contended.

He referred to a ruling by Kettenhofen that a motion by Supervisor John F. McInnis to table the Highway 17 issue be brought to a vote with no discussion permitted.

The motion to table was approved by a 3-2 vote with Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Thomas T. Storer dissenting.

"The arrogant refusal of Kettenhofen, as chairman, to allow representatives of taxpaying citizens groups to express their view denied them proper representation," Arrigoni said.

High School Politicos Nominate Rockefeller, Hatfield As Slate

By GLENN ANDERSON

San Rafael High School students nominated New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for president and Oregon Sen. Mark O. Hatfield for vice president in their own wild, free-swinging version of the Republican convention yesterday.

The dramatic high-point came when the California delegation, previously committed to Gov. Ronald Reagan, opened second ballot voting and gave its votes to Rockefeller.

Unbounded pandemonium of yelling and confetti throwing followed.

The convention nominated Hatfield, played by Steve Berringer, despite rumors that Rockefeller, played by Herbert Rowland Jr., had promised the vice presidential nomination to Reagan.

In his acceptance speech, Howland (Rockefeller) told the delegates he wasn't going to name his choice for vice president, then added, "but there is a man on the West Coast and I urge you to consider the geographical balance."

The convention had many things the real Republican convention is likely to have, wild demonstrations, walls plastered with posters and floors littered with confetti, and rumors of back-room deals.

It also had things the real convention is not likely to have, included a rock band and a platform plank endorsing recognition of Red China.

Rockefeller's nomination by acclamation on the second ballot, accompanied by a round of "boos" from the disappointed, came after an inconclusive first ballot on which former Vice President Richard Nixon received a plurality of 429 votes. He needed 667 for the nomination.

As second ballot voting opened, Phil Johnson, speaking for California, stepped to the microphone to shift the state's votes to Rockefeller.

He yelled into the microphone that the convention should choose "one man who can establish a tradition, who can take the Republican ticket to the White House . . . Nelson Rockefeller."

The convention broke into one of the loudest of many loud cheers through the day. A series of other state delegation spokesmen paraded to the microphone to announce they were switching to Rockefeller.

Prior to the choice of Rockefeller by acclamation, there were 773 votes for him to 237 for Nixon.

Bolinas-Stinson Superintendent Choice Is Secret

A new principal-superintendent of the Bolinas-Stinson School District was agreed on last night in a closed meeting of district trustees at Bolinas School.

Mrs. Roberta Shockey, board clerk, reported that the trustees agreed not to release the name of their selection until he accepts their offer. The man is a superintendent in a California elementary school district outside the Bay Area, Mrs. Shockey said.

The present principal-superintendent, Keith Oveson, announced last month he would resign effective June 30.

The district board last night interviewed the three finalists for the post, and voted unanimously on the selection, said Mrs. Shockey.

Drake High Announces Runoff Vote

Under election rules written by students, the votes received by candidates are not released, reported John J. Hayes, dean of student activities.

Runoff results in class elections were:

Kathy Lavaroni defeated Terry Carlisle for junior class vice president and Robin Reimke defeated Michele Tourte for junior class vice president.

$125,000 Bail Each Set For Six In Heroin Haul

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With bail set at $125,000 each, six Chinese seamen await arraignment tomorrow on charges of possessing for sale $12 million worth of pure heroin.

Bail was set yesterday in municipal court after the district attorney issued complaints. Later the county grand jury indicted the men.

The seamen were arrested Monday in Long Beach, the day after arriving from Hong Kong via Manila in a Dutch-registered freighter, the Zeeland. Narcotics agents said they seized about 14 pounds of heroin, enough to adulterate to 200 pounds worth $12 million if sold illegally.

BAY AREA SECRET: HIGH ILLITERACY

World Traveling Mass Literacy Teacher Seeks Marin City, Other Marin Projects

By ALLAN JONES

The San Francisco Bay Area prides itself as one of the world's most civilized places—but even here, there are as many as 80,000 functional illiterates.

That's the estimate of Dr. Frank C. Laubach, 83-year-old world leader in mass literacy education, who today completed a whirlwind week launching literacy programs in the Bay Area.

The first project of Laubach Literacy, Inc., will be teaching some 6,000 San Francisco Chinese to speak and read English. The Chinese, most of them recent arrivals from Hong Kong, "are educated, but not in English," Laubach said.

Four nine-hour programs for 100 to 120 literacy teachers will be held in June, and the teachers will then set up classes for the Chinese pupils.

There are also plans, still in the tentative stage, for programs in Marin. Laubach said West Coast director Dr. W. James Hudkins of Mill Valley has been in touch with the Marin Economic Opportunity Council and with the Manzanita Community Center in Marin City to discuss literacy programs.

Laubahc, staying at a hotel in Sausalito during his visit here, explained he developed his literacy teaching method in 1931 when he was a teaching missionary in Mindanao, the Philippines. He developed a written language for the Moro natives and taught it to them with charts relating sounds to pictures. "We link what we know to what we don't know," he explained.

When misionary funds were cut during the depression, Laubach recalled, the Moro chief refused to let the education program stop. He insisted that "every man must teach or I'll kill him," Laubach said.

The Moro ultimatum was the first example of "each one teach one" which has become a central part of the simple, effective Laubach method. Individual volunteers can learn to teach literacy in a short time, and the illiterate pupil can learn to read in a few months.

"It's not just a nice thing to do," but a matter of world survival, Laubach said.

"Here's half the world dangerous because they're hungry, and hungry because they're ignorant . . . the world is in danger from this desperate group," he said. "They'll come up the violent way unless they come up the education way."

Laubach has been teaching the education way for nearly 40 years, and an estimated 60 million people have learned to read in 350 languages using the Laubach method.

After a television appearance Tuesday, Laubach said, seven phone lines at the station were swamped with inquiries and requests for literacy programs.

The calls included requests from several Marin cities, he said. Dr. Hudkins said he hopes to set up literacy councils in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Mill Valley and Tiburon. Inquiries were received from each of those cities.

There are some particular difficulties in teaching literacy in the United States, Laubach said. "In the United States, it's difficult to find the illiterate, because they're ashamed of being illiterate. They don't like to attend classes because they're ashamed to make mistakes and be corrected."

The "each one teach one" method works better because it can give one-to-one tutoring and mistakes are corrected in private. The pupil is never reprimanded — if he errs, there is something wrong with the teaching or the method, Laubach said.

Another difficulty is English itself, which Laubach called the most difficult language to teach because of its many irregular spellings. He has developed a chart of 96 key spellings which enable students to pronounce two-thirds of all English words. After three months, pupils can pronounce all English words, and in three more they know essentially all the irregular spellings.

Laubach flew home today to Rochester, N.Y., to resume direction of the world-wide movement he started in 1931.

The West Coast office of Laubach Literacy is in the International Center, 50 Oak Street, San Francisco, and inquiries about Bay Area programs are being handled there.

Motorcyclist Hurt; Deer Dies

Ralph J. Ramirez, 33, of 2601 Center Road, Novato, was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital, with face cuts.

As his motorcycle rounded a curve at 4 p.m., west of the entrance to Samuel P. Taylor State Park, a deer jumped out of the brush landing on the front of the cycle, according to the California Highway Patrol. Ramirez braked but lost control of the cycle and it slid over on its left side, officers said.

The deer was killed.

Sausalito Readies Annual Holy Ghost Celebration

The annual Holy Ghost Festival of Sausalito's Portuguese community will be celebrated this weekend with the traditional parade, mass, feasting, and crowning of queens.

The festival stems from the 13th Century, when a famine which threatned Portugal was miraculously relieved by the arrival of food-laden ships after Queen Isabel ordered national prayers for relief. The queen ordered the event celebrated from then on with a day of thanksgiving to the Holy Ghost.

The festival has been celebrated in Sausalito since the 1880s.

On Saturday, meat to be used for the traditional "sopa and carne" will be blessed at 8:30 a.m. by Rev. James Moher, pastor of Star of the Sea Catholic Church. The two-day preparation of food will start after the blessing.

At 8 p.m. Saturday, Reverend Moher will lead members of Sausalito's IDESSI in a rosary at IDESST Hall. The initials stands for Irmindade Divino Espirito Santo Sancticma Trinidad, or the Portuguese Society of the Holy Spirit and Most Holy Trinity.

A dance will follow and the rosary and Sausalito Mayor Earl J. Dunphy will crown the 'Big Queen," Antoinette Azevedo of Petaluma.

On Sunday, a parade will form at 9:15 a.m. in front of IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street, and march to the church at 180 Harrison Street, where a High Mass will be given in Portuguese at 10:30 a.m. by a Portuguese priest, Rev. Alfonso Ritas.

After the mass, the parade will circle downtown and return to the society hall for the final celebration, the traditional "sopa and carne" feast and Chamarita folkdancing until midnight.

The parade will include the Sausalito queens and attendants, festival queens from Petaluma, Novato, Sebastopol and Benecia, last year's Sausalito queens, Philomina Brazil and Kathy Souza, three drill teams, two drum and bugle corps, two drum and bell corps, the Earl Blasingame band and city councilmen.

The big queen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio J. Azevedo, will be attended by Wanda Matthias of Petaluma and Arlene Bello of Santa Rosa.

The "Little Queen" will be Linda Rita Arruda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Arruda of San Rafael, who will be attended by Diane Mendes of Terra Linda and Eva Denegri of San Rafael.

Representing Saint Isabel will be Antoinette Brazil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brazil of Petaluma.

Chamber To Supply Civic Body Agendas

Agendas will be available for meetings of the city council, planning commission, architectural advisory committee, parks and recreation commission, library board, art commission board of appeals.

Bolinas Harbor Bill Passes First Hurdle

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to extend to 1971 Bolinas Harbor District's deadline to improve the lagoon yesterday passed its first legislatve test — despite opposition by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee voted unanimously by voice to send the bill to the finance committee with a "do pass" recommendation.

The billy (SB 1012) was introduced by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, at the request of the harbor district's board of directors. The board of supervisors voted 3-2 Tuesday to oppose the bill, supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and John F. McInnis dissenting.

Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the committee yesterday that the board wants jurisdiction over the lagoon transferred to the county.

The bill was supported by district director Thomas J. Barfield and district planner Norman Gilroy. A spokesman for the State Lands Commission also favored the bill, telling the committee that it was a reasonable request because the district learned only last year that such an extension of the deadline was not automatic.

McCarthy declined to drop the bill, saying it was up to the harbor district directors and supervisors to resolve their differences.

Barfield, in a press statement, yesterday said he had switched his support from Supervisor Thomas T. Storer to Storer's opponent, Louis H. Baar. Storer's vote against the bill, said Barfield, "is just one more example of how Tom has voted against the people of his district."

However, a host of residents of Bolinas and Stinson Beach packed the supervisors' chambers Tuesday to oppose the bill. They charged that the harbor district directors are insular and hostile to the desires of the residents, and urged that the county take over the lagoon to save it from private development.

Also opposing the bill yesterday in a press statement was Kettenhofen's opponent, Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. A county-wide harbor district would "insure coordinated planning" for the lagoon, he said.

THE COUNTY BUDGET

Mental Illness No Longer Hidden

By WAT TAKESHITA

(Last of nine articles)

Ten years ago, "mental health" was something people discussed in whispers. Marin officialdom refused to accept it as a major community problem. Some extremists even attacked proponents of mental health as Communists or Communist-inspired.

It was not until July of 1964, less than four years ago, that the county hired a part-time director, Dr. Clyde G. Miller, and a secretary and gave them one room in the old courthouse.

Today, it is a full department with 36 employees headed by Dr. Miller, with headquarters at 610 D Street and 710 C Street, San Rafael.

This year's (1967-68) budget is $771,193, of which the net cost to the county is $169,043, with the rest coming from state and federal aid.

The new 1968-69 budget calls for a total expenditure of $1,157,334, but the net county cost goes up to only $189,377. "In other words," said Dr. Miller, "the state and federal contribution goes up almost $400,000, while the county cost goes up $20,000."

The big jump in expenditure for the coming fiscal year reflects the opening of the new $1.6 million Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital in October. The center will open with 14 beds and 26 partial hospitalization units, but by next April, the Center will have 28 beds and 52 partial hospitalization units.

Staff members to run the new center must be added as each of two wings is completed. When the new center begins operating at full capacity next April, Dr. Miller estimates that the full staff will total some 108 persons as compared with today's authorized position of 36.

This jump in staff is provided for in the new budget recommendation of $1,157,334 for 1968-69.

The layman has only a vague idea of what Mental Health Services provide. Specifically, what are some of the services offered by the department?

ADULT SERVICES:

Diagnose and evaluate emotionally disturbed adults. Provide short, medium or long term psychotherapy for individuals and groups.

Inpatient treatment of either an emergency type or extended term (upto one month).

Emergency round-th-clock service is provided for acutely indisturbed patients at Marin General Hospital emergency room, Juvenile Hall, or the county jail.

Emergency treatment for individuals of families faced with an acute crisis.

Counseling and screening of families who petition to commit a mentally disturbed person to Napa State Hospital or an alcoholic or inebriate to Mendocino State Hospital. (Dr. Miller reports that since his department toook over the pre-petition screening in 1965, the number of involuntary commitments to Napa and Mendocino dropped sharply. However, voluntary commitments to those institutions are rising.)

CHILD SERVICES:

Diagnose and treat children up to 18 years old with emotional disturbances. Some inpatient treatment provided for adolescents.

A traveling team gives consultation and diagnostic service in the North Marin area, concentrating mainly at nursery schools, Head Start program, and child health conferences of the Health Department.

The department contracts with other agencies for many services. It contracts with the Marin Institute on Alcoholism for outpatient and consultation services for alcoholics; with Ross Psychiatric Center for outpatient service; and with Ross General Hospital and Marin General Hospital interim unit for inpatient services.

When the new Mental Health Center is completed in October, the entire staff will move to Marin General Hospital, except for a four-man administrative staff headed by Dr. Miller, an accountant and two secretaries. Dr. Miller and the three others will move into offices in the Civic Center.

The growth of mental health services in Marin County is in line with the nationwide and statewide trend toward treatment of the mentally ill in local communities close to home environment as opposed to "isolation" in far away state institutions, Dr. Miller pointed out.

"The percentage of people with psychoses — the real crazy, out-of-their-mind types — is dropping as compared with those with alcoholism, neuroses and anxieties," Dr. Miller noted.

He said society is gradually accepting the fact that mental illness is not something to be shunned like the plague but is a disease that can be prevented and contained like physical ailments.

Knifepoint Robbery Told At Marinship

Bernard Lewis of San Francisco reported that three youths robbed him of $18 at knifepoint, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Officers said Lewis told them he was in a parking lot at Gate 5, Marinship, about 2:30 a.m. Sunday when the trio, all Negroes, approached him. He was uninjured.

Horse Care Course Offered In Ignacio

A six-week course on horse care and feeding will be conducted by the Marin County Humane Society June 15 through July 20. Classes will be held at the society's Novato property on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard.

Registration for the free course, now in its fifth year, may be made at the humane society office, 402 Third Street in San Rafael. Trail riding, proper shoeing, selection of horse and tack will also be covered.

Federal Judgeship For Poole

OAKLAND (UPI) — Cecil F. Poole, U.S. attorney in San Francisco for the past seven years, has been nominated by President Johnson for a federal judgeship.

If appointed to the district court vacancy in Oakland, Poole will become the first Negro federal judge west of the Mississippi.

Poole was appointed to his present post in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy. He had served as assistant district attorney in San Francisco and was Gov. Edmund G. Brown's clemency secretary.

Poole, 53, a native of Birmingham, Ala., received a law degree from Harvard in 1939. He came to California in 1945 after serving in the Air Force Judge Advocate Section.

SEVEN REASONS WHY
VOTE FOR TOM STORER
"A Man for Marin"

(Tom Storer at Drake's Bay Beach)

Because:

● 1. He fought the battle for the ferries when other "practical" men were saying there was no use for anything but freeways, second decks, and more "can-of-worms" interchanges to serve Marin commuters. Some are still scoffing, but now many sensible experts are seeing things Storer's way.

● 2. He stands for efficiency and economy in County Government — something others pay lip-service to, while they pile the burden higher on the taxpayer every year. Storer will fight, as he has in the past, to keep Marin a place that is not only worth living in, but one the average man can afford.

● 3. He battled for the beauty of Marvelous Marin — and always will — against those who would pave it, carve it up into tiny parcels, auction it off to speculators, fill its bright blue waters, foul its air and pollute its streams.

● 4. He commands respect in the other counties of the Bay Area, in Washington and Sacramento. Marin is a modern Camelot: why blur its image with mediocrity?

● 5. He won't buy your vote. He isn't contemptuous of your judgment, Marin voters! He doesn't mess up the countryside with "cute" Madison-Ave.-type posters. He didn't hire a slick professional P.R. man. He didn't ask for special-interest support, like the real estate lobby. His campaign is being run on a shoe-string. (This ad is donated by a number of individual citizens. Its cost: less than $300).

● 6. He has a future. Tom Storer has grown in office. He will continue growing. Elected in a lightly populated version of our Fourth District, before the "one-man-one-vote" redistricting, he skillfully shifted his gears for the new and complicated District IV that was presented to him before he took office. Do South San Rafael, Larkspur and Corte Madera feel they have ever been more competently and courteously represented?

● 7. He believes in the Law. As a lawyer, he profoundly understands it. Tom Storer was an Assistant District Attorney for Marin County, and he is committed both to law and order and the practical compassion that makes society workable. Justice and consideration for human values will always govern his actions in racial and economic matters.

● 8. He has made the right enemies. More money is being spent in the campaign against Tom Storer than has ever been raised in a Marin supervisorial race! Cynical professional operators have been retained by interests whose motives belong to the Age of Dinosaurs. Commodore Vanderbilt said "the Public be damned," but history does not record that he thought it could be purchased wholesale.

We promised you seven reasons. We gave you eight — one extra. Take your pick. If you can think of any reason for not supporting Tom Storer in the year 1968 in Marin County, let us know.

Non-Cancer Luau Set At Tiki Junction

Barney West, sculptor-owner of Tiki Junction in Sausalito, had a bad scare last month. After chest x-rays his doctor told him he probably had lung cancer, a disease that kills 55,000 Americans each year.

Grateful for his new lease on life, Barney is throwing a luau at Tiki Junction Saturday, from 3 to 9 p.m., with half the proceeds going to the American Cancer Society. Admission will be $5.

Highlights of the luau will include scorpion punch and hors-d'oeurve. Writer Sterling Hayden will be co-host. Several of Barney's tikis will be auctioned off at the event.

The funds collected for the American Cancer Society will go to support the Society's year round programs of research, education and service to cancer patients.

Two Marijuana Jury Trials Set

Innocent pleas were entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Carter Hall, 20, accused of two counts of selling marijuana, and Rodney Sydney Johnson, 31, charged with sale and possession of marijuana.

Judge Harold J. Haley scheduled jury trials for both on during the week of Aug. 26.

HOMEOWNER UPSET

Her Garage A Polls, But She'll Vote A Mile Away

Evelyn Hertzberg of 36 Dorset Lane, Mill Valley, has voted in past elections in her garage, up to now the polling place for her precinct. Now, though her garage remains a polling place, she's been assigned to vote in someone else's garage a mile away.

"What egghead is responsible for this?" demanded Mrs. Hertzberg, in a letter to County Clerk George H. Gnoss. "Is it an error or it is a deliberate attempt to make it difficult to vote?"

Neither, said John Musser, assistant county clerk for elections.

What's happened, said Musser, is there have been annexations to Mill Valley which have required precinct shifting to balance them according to population.

Enchanted Knolls, which has gained population, has now become a precinct of its own, number 3200. Mrs. Hertzberg's garage is right over the line from Enchanted Knolls, and has been chosen as the polling place for number 3200.

Mrs. Hertzberg is now in a long, narrow precinct, 3201, and her garage happens to be located at one end of the precinct. A more centrally located polling place for the long, narrow precinct, a garage at the residence of David E. Francis, 6 Azeala Drive, has been chosen.

"First complaint we've had," declared Musser.

Fireworks Blast Kills 40 Soviets

MOSCOW (UPI)—Forty persons were killed and about 200 injured when an explosion in a fireworks storeroom destroyed a wooden resort hotel near the Soviet city of Kirov, according to reports reaching Moscow today.

The reports could not be confirmed since Soviet authorities seldom report news of accidents and disasters.

Travelers from Kirov said the explosion occurred May 20, when the hotel was jammed with workers on all-expense outings.

SOCIETY HAIRSTYLIST

Women Of Elegance Maintain Simplicity Of Line—Norbert

By MARSHA DUBROW

NEW YORK (UPI)—He is sometimes psychiatrist, often confidant and adviser to highest society. He's also its fulltime hairstylist.

Norbert is the name. He is haute coiffeur to a princess, a duchess, a Rockefeller, a Ford, and a Du Pont among others of the wealthy international set.

This Frenchman in New York explains his many roles by saying, "Women spend some two to four hours straight in a salon and, heaven knows, in that time they must talk. What's left after the weather?" he asked. "The lover, the maid, and the cook. Especially since good ones are so hard to find these days."

Norbert, now in his early 40's, grew up just outside of Paris and then in Madagascar. He gave up an acting career for the more secure job of fighting for the Allies.

After the war, he hair-styled his way through France and London and on to America in 1959. He then directed the hair departments of the international salons of Elizabeth Arden and Revlon before opening his own salon in a Manhattan townhouse.

THE RESPLENDENT Set glistens in and out of his crimson and cream-colored establishment. Most have their hair done at least twice a week, undaunted by prices of $35 for his complete restyling, $12 for a recombing.

One day a British woman walked through the salon and suddenly dropped into a formal curtsey. Norbert was coiffing Princess Margaret.

"Women of real elegance always maintain a simplicity of line because simplicity means elegance," he explained. "My customers such as the Duchess of Windsor and Mrs. William S. Paley would never have wild, daring hairstyles because it's against their philosophy—and mine."

Norbert has a mass of dark, curly hair and a mustache to match. To him, the two most important aspects of a hairstyle are "fashion and suitability. Each fashion must be adapted to each person — her face, bone structure, personality, total life."

When a customer demands a hairstyle he feels unsuitable, what happens? "I place the responsibility back on her and say, 'I'll give you anything you want for you'll be the one who'll wear it.' She always rethinks the matter," he said.

THE DIFFICULT women to deal with are not the true society ones but the ersatz society, the nouveau riche. "They have the money without the manner or manners and often without the taste," Norbert noted.

One exception to his theory of difficulty was Zsa Zsa Gabor who lasted only five minutes with him.

"She made quite an impact on my mind, expecially since she was seated with her crossed legs propped up on the dresser," he said. "She found fault with everything — the comb, rollers, no end papers or beer, for setting purposes only."

Norbert finally lost patience and told the actress, "Considering that the Duchess of Windsor never made me change techniques, I shouldn't for you. Have the comb. Perhaps you should try."

SHE THREW down the comb and stalked out.

HAIR STYLIST Norbert of New York creates a party hairdo for a teen-age girl, with the help of model Rosemary Moody. He counts among his coiffure customers Princess Margaret, a duchess, a Rockefeller, a Ford and a DuPont. "Women of real elegance always maintain a simplicity of line," he says. (UPI Telephoto)

Mary Dakin Is Married In India In A Traditional Hindu Ceremony

By MOLLY MARIN

Mary Dakin, formerly of Belvedere, was married in New Delhi Sunday. The bridegroom, Anil Sadgopal, took a Ph.D. degree in science at the California Institute of Technology. Mary is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Dakin, who with six other family members were lost in an air crash off Baja California in December, 1966.

Mary and Anil became acquainted when bother were students at the University of California at Los Angeles. The bride, a graduate of Katharine Branson School, also attended Swarthmore College and the University of California. Anil's parents were in California earlier this spring. A large reception was given for the visitors by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Weed at the Marshall home in Tiburon. Mrs. Dixon Wecter of Belvedere also entertained for them at that time. Mrs. Wecter went to India to attend the wedding, as did Mary's brother, Henry Dakin of San Francisco.

Mrs. Halton Arp of Los Angeles is the bride's sister. The bridegroom's father is head of the Bureau of Standards in India. For the Hindu ceremony Mary wore a sari and traditional head scarf as she was welcomed into the Sadgopal family. The couple will live in India.

AND THE PYRAMID CAME TUMBLING DOWN

UP AND OVER goes John Chiapellone attempting to master the children's "impossible dream" the backward roll. "John, get those hands by your ears, hold on John, you're going, going, gone. Well, better luck next time; you've got the right idea." The tumbling classes teach the children coordination and the important lesson of following directions.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

From Butterfly To Cocoon, And Mom Hasn't Recovered From Shock

DEAR HELEN:

Last year I was 14, fat and unwanted. My mother was always trying to push me into parties and getting boys interested, etc. It didn't work.

This year I am thin in the right places, and all of a sudden I can't walk down the street without boys gathering round. I was surprised at first and real pleased, but I didn't let it go to my head.

But now, my mother has changed completely. She says I can't date until I'm a sophomore, and she has to know every last detail about any party I'm invited to.

How come she was so anxious for me to be popular when I wasn't, and now that I am she doesn't like it? — SLIMMED DOWN BUT STILL WAITING

DEAR SLIM:

Give your mother time. After nursing along a cocoon, it's pretty hard adjusting to a sudden butterfly. She'd rather be sure your wings are strong before she lets you sail too high with them.—H .

DEAR HELEN:

The girl I work with is over 21 so it's none of my business, but I think she's pretty stupid. This man asked her to his apartment to fix dinner for him. Ever since, she has been going up there three times a week, to clean, cook, wash and iron. Don't you think she is being had?—MIL.

DEAR MIL:

Probably.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My gripe is long gloves for formal dances. Yes, I know it's etiquette, but are they necessary? After all, hats were etiquette a few years ago, my mother tells me, and now who wears them?

Those gloves are usually white, but they don't stay that way — not with boys' sweaty palms. They are the dickens to button and just about the time you get them on, you need to use your fingers for something like pinning up a broken strap, so off they come again. Then when you go out to eat it's off again, on again, and you're lucky if you don't lose one under the table. And after the dance how can you run your fingers through a boy's hair, with gloves on!

Besides they hide your engagement ring! And they look awkward. Who's with me in saying, "DOWN WITH FORMAL GLOVES?"

DEAR DOWN:

Count me in. They really are a nuisance! Not only during formal dances, but any time they aren't needed for warmth.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is in answer to "Lonely Teen-ager" who wonders why boys are friendly but don't ask her out. As a guy who has dated for many years, I know some reasons why cute, intelligent-type girls don't make it.

All males have a nagging fear of rejection. They are afraid that when they ask a doll out she either won't want to go, or she already has a boyfriend, and they'll feel like fools.

Another reason: Teen - age boys aren't famous for their great wealth. Most figure they need a lot of coins to date, and they don't care about bankrupting themselves.

Contrary to popular belief, boys do not like fast and loose girls, who are often looked upon as a joke and a point of ridicule.

So my advice to L.T. it: Make sure the guys know you are unattached and don't have expensive tastes. Don't be witty to the point of making them feel inferior but don't act dumb either, and keep your morals firm! EXPERIENCED 18-YEAR-OLD

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Good Weekend Supply Of Meat And Poultry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — USDA's Consumer and Marfketing Service reports that ample supplies of meat and poultry and good stocks of some fresh vegetables and fruit will be available this weekend after Memorial Day in food stores and supermarkets.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue to head the list of abundant meats. Also in the abundant class are ground beef and beef roasts and steaks.

PORK ITEMS in ample supply include bacon, chops and roasts, and ham. Some area reports also put picnics and butts in the ample-supply class. North Pacific halibut steaks and fish fillets are fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Cabbage, carrots, lettuce, onions and potatoes are abundantly available in most areas. And so is corn in some areas. Bananas and oranges should be in ample supply in most areas along with strawberries in some areas.

IN THE WEST:

Grade AA eggs in all sizes are higher per dozen in Portland, and large and medium eggs are each up in the Los Angeles area.

Ready-to-cook turkeys are averaging an increase per pound in the San Francisco Bay Area; chicken hens are slightly higher in Southern California.

Price trends on wholesale cuts of beef—with the exception of fresh loins which are showing significant increases in all markets — are down somewhat in Southern California, but fairly steady elsewhere on the West Coast.

Listings on both cured and fresh pork are generally steady, although smoked hams are less than a week ago in California.

Spring lamb is lower in the Pacific Northwest, but has advanced in Los Angeles.

Fruit and vegetables in best supply include apples, bananas, grapefruit, oranges, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce and onions.

Best fish buys for the West are: North Pacific halibut steaks, ocean perch fillets, sole fillets, cod fillets, rockfish, oysters, rainbow trout, canned tuna, and salmon steaks.

PARENTS: THIS SUMMER LET READAK
Help Your Child to New Success in School

Learn how a summer study program can unlock your child's unused potential

A little boy from San Francisco wrote us this note recently:

"I enjoyed your classes very much But the time seemed to go by so fast! I partly wish I wasn't fixed up yet so I could go on with the classes. But I know what you have done for me will be a big help afterwards. And I'll learn how to divide just for you."

His instructor, Bill West, is still on our staff.

Course Outline

We don't just "fix up" children We also teach 'A' and 'B' students how to read with greater comprehension, and how to read faster. One year the Valedictorian of Los Altos High School took our course, and went on to Stanford. We present courses at some of the toughest college preparatory schools in California.

Children of all ages are helped by reading improvement. We have small classes for second, third, and fourth graders. Fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders take our special courses. High school students know they must read well in order to get good grades. And get into college.

Readak speed reading programs have shown many adults how to read faster and understand more. Our adult speed reading courses are well known for results. We have helped teachers, doctors, attorneys, scientists, engineers stockbrokers and many others.

Comprehension is the key to any Readak course — for second graders, or for adults. We teach children how to find the main idea, how to spot the key facts, how to remember what they've read. We teach them how a paragraph is organized, and how the paragraphs fit together to make an essay, or a story. We teach vocabulary development.

Phonics is important for younger children. The diagnostic phonics tests tell us if your child needs phonics instruction. He will learn to identify the long vowels, the short vowels, the digraphs, the diphthongs. And he will learn to unlock new words, phonetically.

Study Skills

How often parents have told us, "My child reads well. He is bright. But he doesn't know how to study." Readak has now developed a special Study Skills course. This program makes scholars out of students. Your child will learn:

- How to prepare for study
- How to take notes
- How to take tests
- How to concentrate
- How to remember
- How to write essays
- How to use time
- How to write compositions

Few regular school programs offer any course in study skills. Throughout school, your child can only do his best work if he knows how to study. Often, low grades mean only poor study habits.

Your child is given a diagnostic reading test before enrollment. After he is tested, you have a conference with his teacher. You receive the test results in clear, plain talk—no holding back. If we feel we can help, your child is put in the proper class for complete attention to his individual needs. There is no charge for the testing. If we cannot help, or you decide not to enroll, the test is free. In order to help your child, we must know his present reading ability. And we will not accept any child without proper testing.

Advanced Methods

Readak reading courses do not duplicate the public school approach. There is no conflict. Readak teaches all the most advanced and efficient methods of reading improvement.

. . . we won't guarantee we can get her into college, but Readak can give her something just as important — outstanding reading ability and love of books.

Often, regular school instruction is not enough. Classes are large. Teachers are busy. Your child is studying many subjects, not just reading. There is not enough time to concentrate on an intensive reading program.

Readak has extremely small classes. Our teachers are highly-trained reading experts. We teach reading only—not math, and science, and P.E. Just reading. The program is very concentrated, and very effective.

You will be very pleased by the results. Ask your neighbor. Probably her child went to Readak last summer. Children develop a new feeling of confidence. We want every child to be enthusiastic about reading. We want every child to love to read books.

You may know quite a bit about Readak already. We began in Palo Alto in 1957. This year marks our tenth summer session. We are successful because we have done a good job in helping children read better. Now there are Readak schools in Boston, New York, Washington, D.C., Detroit, New Orleans, Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Vancouver, B.C., Puerto Rico, Mexico City, Mill Valley, San Jose, Palo Alto and San Diego. Our Director is Kirk Lawson, a Stanford graduate in English. He has spent many years in the study and practice of reading techniques.

The success of Readak depends upon our success in helping your child. We intend to keep on growing.

Our first summer session is beginning to fill. But we do have openings in all summer sessions. Here is our schedule.

NEW OFFICE AND WAREHOUSE COMPLEX

Construction is scheduled to start immediately on this 11,000-square foot structure on Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park, designed by Wagstaff and McDonald. Owner Al Villa will do the building and also occupy 2,000 square feet of the building when completed in August. Site Engineering Co., San Rafael will also take 2,000 square feet. There will be 40 offstreet parking spaces and extensive landscaping. Structural engineer on the job is the firm of Schaaf and Jacobs.

Floating Storage Plan Hit

WASHINGTON, D.C. (BW) — Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Fourth District, yesterday sharply criticized the Defense Department for attempting to revive a plan for "floating warehouses" which Congress rejected last year.

Leggett, a member of the Armed Forces Services Committee, characterized the plan to build a fleet of 30 fast deployment logistics ships as a "boondoggle" which, he said, would "undercut the historic role that the merchant fleet has always played as our fourth arm of defense."

'BILLIONS OF DOLLARS'

The California congressman told a luncheon sponsored by the AFL-CIO Maritme Trades Department that the FDL project would "siphon off billions of dollars of taxpayers' money into the building of vessels which, he said, would "serve a questionable purpose."

The $1.8 billion projected for the construction of these 30 ships, Leggett continued, would help finance the building of between 160 and 210 commercial vessels that would perform both a military function in time of crisis and that would also serve "as our commercial link to the world around us" in time of peace.

SPEND IT ELSEWHERE

The congressman asked that at least that much be spent on merchant ship construction as on the floating warehouse plan.

"This will produce the new ships that are needed to replace the worn-out vessels in our merchant fleet, and the ships will add billions of dollars each year to the plus side of the balance of payments, and millions more in tax revenue," Leggett said.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Study Is Best Formula For Picking Top Stocks

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I would like to trade more actively in stocks if I could operate by a formula or system of selection that would limit losses. There must be books or articles by experts indicating characteristics of both good and poor buys. — M.B.

A. There are books and articles for investors like yourself to read and study if you're willing to make the effort to learn about the country's basic industries, the corporate enterprises developed by each, and what these corporations report about their earnings and future prospects.

Stock prices are generally available in the larger city papers. As for mechanical formulas or systems to apply to stock selection, their use is a highly professional operation. You'd do better to study and learn all you can about common stock investing on the basis of fundamental factors, that is, the company's earnings, use of its products, competitive position in its industry and so on.

Look into the financial section of your public library for books and magazines on business and finance and then ask your broker to let you see his statistical reports on individual companies. Daily reading of financial news in a metropolitan paper will familiarize you with favorable — and unfavorable — factors affecting industries, companies and securities. These are some of the ways to train yourself to make good stock selections.

Q. Please give me your views on Delhi Australian Petroleum, 50 shares of which were recently given to me. Does it have future growth potential? — E.L.

A. Yes, I believe it definitely does. However, inasmuch as Australian oil companies do not enjoy great popularity in the United States it might be advisable to liquidate your gift and buy 100 shares of Occidental on the Big Board. These shares have a stronger following than Delhi Australian and are attractive for growth. They have shown good market action because of Occidental's diversification program. Earnings are expected to move up again this year.

U.S.-Dutch Trade

THE HAGUE (UPI)—Holland's exports to the United States in 1967 rose by 11.5 per cent to a total value of $34.7 million. Imports from the United States during the year dropped 2.5 per cent to a total value of $89.1 million.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

New Diaper Wash Firm Debuts, Plans Two-County Service

New in Marin is Babyland Diaper Service, opened at 1108 Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael.

This company intends to give service throughout both Marin and Sonoma counties, with deliveries twice weekly. Present route schedule calls for deliveries into the Sausalito Corte Madera area on Mondays and Thursdays and the rest of the county north to Novato and in West Marin on Tuesdays and Fridays. Sonoma County will be serviced Wednesdays and on Saturday mornings.

Principals in the business are Michael O'Connor of Novato, who has been seven years with Dy-Dee Wash, and William J. Yeo of Sonoma, formerly in the restaurant business and in construction work with his father, and now retired.

They are starting out with one truck and will add more rolling equipment as the business expands.

WILLIAM WILSON of San Rafael, under the name of Bill Wilson, Builder, is now carrying on the construction business formerly in the name of Wilson and Wedkind. He continues to make his headquarters at the old address, 54 De Luca Place, San Rafael.

Wilson first started in construction in Marin in 1938 with Ralph Murphy and Sons. He specializes in remodeling work.

NEW MANAGER of H. Liebes and Co., Northgate Fashion Mall, is Sydney Posner of San Francisco. He succeeds Mrs. Alma Liebes, who has moved to Portland, Ore. Posner was previously an executive with the Fashion at Westlake Shopping Center, Daly City, and was president of the Westlake Merchants Association. He will supervise the H. Liebes store in Sun Valley in addition to his Northgate duties.

ROBERT J. PETERSEN, sales manager of First American Title Co. of Marin, San Rafael, has been appointed vice president of the company. He is a resident of Fairfax.

MAX SIEGEL of Corte Madera is new general sales manager at De Long Chevrolet, Inc., San Rafael. For the past several years he has held management positions in both Marin County and San Francisco with automobile dealers.

Assisting him is Jules de Beaubien of Corte Madera, who several years ago had a Pontiac dealership in Mill Valley and is well known in stock car racing circles.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY of San Rafael Health and Dietary Foods, 1132 Fourth Street, San Rafael will be celebrated June 5 through June 8, when there will be free samples, recipes, gifts, juicer and blender demonstrations and other promotional events.

The store is now in the process of expanding and remodeling. It has added organically grown fruits and vegetables (grown without chemicals, sprays or dusts), to its offerings. Howard Embury has retired from the contracting business to join his wife in devoting full time to the business.

On June 7, Margot Fraser, a student of natural healing methods, will demonstrate "Footprint Sandals." And on June 8, former Marin resident and San Francisco businessman Jeremy Ets-Hokin will be there to autograph his diet book, "The Transfiguration of a Fat Slob."

TWO EDUCATIONAL FILMS for business firms (16 millimeter, sound and color) on proper employee training to reduce losses resulting from "rubber" checks and shoplifting are available from Modern Marketing Programs, 1212 Avenue of the Americas, New York City 10036.

The film strip "Check and Double Check" shows how bad check passers operate and what important points each clerk should use when cashing any check. "Shoplifting — You Are the Victim" details how a clerk can easily spot the many ways professional and amateur shoplifters pilfer merchandise, and what to do about it.

TWO MARIN MEN, Capt. Richard J. O'Toole of Peacock Gap and Capt. W. H. (Bill) Elliott of Lucas Valley, have been promoted to jet captains by United Air Lines. Now command pilots aboard United's B-727 jets, they formerly flew propellor-driven planes. O'Toole has been a United pilot since 1952 and Elliott since 1953.

JEREMY WOOLIEVER of Mill Valley, salesman in this area for the Air-Shields subsidiary of Narco Scientific Industries, has returned from an intensive training program at the company's headquarters in Pennsylvania. The firm produces equipment for electronic monitoring of heart patients, pediatric care and respiratory care.

Tonnage Up

THE HAGUE (UPI)—International ship movements in Dutch ports are steadily increasing. Latest figures show that in the first three quarters of 1967, the total was 128.8 million tons, compared with 121.8 and 115.3 million tons, respectively, in the corresponding periods of 1966 and 1965. The world's busiest harbor, Rotterdam, is handling the bulk.

The association also elected Al Miller first vice president; John R. Lee, second vice president; and Alan Birch, secretary-treasurer. Elected directors were Jack Nixon, Russell Troup, Robert Walker and Mrs. Eula Boardman.

Officers and directors will be installed June 6 at the Loch Lomond Yacht Club.

Business Course Helping Business

PALO ALTO (UPI) — From an East Palo Alto barbecue restaurant which increased receipts by 50 per cent to a nuclear instrument firm that needed a corporate plan, Stanford University business school students and area small business firms are helping each other.

A unique small business training course, developed by Prof. Frank Shallenberger in the graduate school of business, provides "live" case study problems for students and gives beleaguered small firms free Stanford management "brains."

TIME FOR A CHANGE!

It's time for a change

There's no doubt in our minds that it's true in the race for the Fourth District Supervisor. Let's change the course of County government and the spiraling tax increases and expenditures by voting for "Bud" Baar. Marin County is one of four counties in the state which had doubled its property taxes in the last five years. Don't you think it's time for a change?—let's vote for Louis H. "Bud" Baar on Tuesday, June 4.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

More Detailed Look At Sausalito School Tax

The Sausalito school tax issue before voters in that district Tuesday deserves more detailed examination.

Last Saturday's editorial provoked several calls from proponents of the proposition to increase the district's general operating tax rate, accusing the Independent-Journal of (1) advocating defeat of the measure, and (2) being "woefully misinformed."

THE I-J DID NOT AND DOES NOT advocate defeat of the Sausalito school tax measure. We repeat what we said last Saturday concerning this and the Marinwood Community Services District tax increase proposal: "In neither does the Independent-Journal have a recommendation for voters."

As to being misinformed, a thorough check confirmed accuracy of the figures published.

However, there are further considerations that need elaboration. As the "pro" and "anti" propaganda on the measure to increase the Sausalito School District's operating fund tax rate to $2.40 per $100 assessed valuation has not explored them, we attempt it here.

IF THE MEASURE does not pass, this rate will fall back to 90 cents per $100, the statutory limit for a school district in Sausalito's class.

What would this mean?

To begin with, it would mean the total tax rate of the district next year would be about $1.905, as compared with the $3.255 which was levied for this year. (This could vary slightly as factors affecting some state funds cannot yet be determined.)

SECOND, the district's budget would have to be cut severely. This cut would have to be $340,000 plus whatever state and federal aid was predicated on larger local contribution. This would include all the special programs operated by the district — the STEP program, special assistance for slow learners, counselors, resource teachers, etc. (It would not affect the Head Start program, which is not operated by Sausalito district.)

THIRD, class size would be considerably increased. It is difficult to determine how much the increase would be as there are several possible approaches. However, the Sausalito board is committed to a completely integrated school system rather than neighborhood schools. With that in mind, Supt. Philip W. Schneider and his staff worked out a budget based on the 90-cent operating rate which allows for keeping only two schools (probably Martin Luther King and Bayside) in operation. Through reduction in teaching force plus reduction in rooms available, this would require class sizes ranging from 31 in kindergarten to 44 in sixth grade. The present average class size in the district is about 22.5.

Much has been made over allegedly high cost of maintenance of Sausalito's rundown schools. However, this would be cut sharply if only two schools were used.

THE MONEY AVAILABLE with the 90-cent operating rate (and total $1.905 rate) would be more for pupil than in some other Marin districts. Perhaps the fairest comparison is with Fairfax district.

Sausalito has assessed valuation of $33,343 per pupil; Fairfax has only $16,047 — about half. Sausalito's budget for this year was $1,172,230 (some additional unbudgeted programs were added later); Fairfax's was $696,272 — slightly over half. Sausalito has 881 pupils; Fairfax, 1,036. Sausalito has four schools, Fairfax has three.

Fairfax requires a total tax rate of $3.375 to raise $243,211 toward its budget from property taxes. A $1.905 rate in Sausalito would yield less than this, but would provide more money per child than Fairfax has because of Sausalito's smaller enrollment.

However, Fairfax saves on transportation costs by having a neighborhood school system. It has only three schools to maintain. It has none of the special programs that are in the Sausalito schools.

Sausalito apparently could nearly approximate the Fairfax program on a $1.905 rate IF it went back to operating three neighborhood schools and one seventh-eighth grade school. Its trustees and administration are definitely opposed to this. And even if it did this, it could have none of the special programs which are considered to be needed because of special characteristics of its school population.

With the $2.40 tax rate, Sausalito could keep all its special programs and its existing setup.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Robert Kennedy And Birth Control

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's views on family planning have become a matter of some interest as his campaign for the presidency has gained momentum.

From my personal knowledge, I can state that he has given full support to the many federal legislative programs which include family planning as a priority measure.

Senator Kennedy supports the position of Planned Parenthood/World Population that freedom to decide the number and spacing of children is a primary human right, and that the need to be born wanted, to responsible parents, is inherent to every child. . . .

Sausalito School Changes Necessary

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Many of us in Sausalito are aware that the changes made in our schools over the past few years are right and necessary. Those who resist these changes, and who are now attempting to defeat the school tax, say in an open letter, "If it is necessary to drop to the bottom in order to build something better, then let's get on with it." By "something better" they mean, quite clearly, neighborhood schools; the Marin City children neatly penned up in Marin City, the Sausalito children kept lily-white in Sausalito. They would say, probably, that they espouse the doctrine of "separate but equal" — Though they must be well aware that "separate" never was equal.

A committee of the World Council of Churches says this, and I recommend to those opposing the school bond that they think about it long and hard:

"If injustice is embedded in the status quo and its supporters refuse to permit change, then, as a last resort, men's conscience may lead them in full and clear-sighted responsibility to engage in violent revolution. A heavy burden then rests on those who have resisted change."

Stop Fighting, Then Negotiate

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Why are we continuing to sacrifice lives in Vietnam? All of the chief architects of our tragic involvement have admitted their blunder by either resigning, getting fired, or giving the nation notice.

What incredible gall for them to demand this continuing sacrifice while they go through the motions of carrying out the negotiations they could have had four years ago if they had placed peace over political expediency.

And what is there to negotiate about? If the war is the result of a foreign invasion, as they maintain, then how can they possibly be prepared to accept a coalition government? The whole Vietnam lie is exposed and yet the casualty figures mount.

We must stop the fighting, immediately! Then negotiate.

Kettenhofen Shares Blame For Costs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial endorsement of incumbent Supervisor (Ernest H.) Kettenhofen just does not jibe with your oft-expressed policy demanding financial efficiency in government. The very next day, May 21, your editorial about Mr. (Donald J.) O'Leary said in part: "He appears . . . not so adverse to cutting some county costs that have simply grown out of reason."

During Mr. Kettenhofen's term in office, the Marin supervisors have established the dubious record of being one of the most extravagant counties in the State. They have not reasonably controlled costs . . .

Expenditures by the planning staff require special mention as the cost in Marin was $166 per capita compared to only $113 in Monterey County. . . . I am not against, in fact, have supported adequate property considered planning functions. However, somebody must be inefficient if Marin has to spend 45 per cent more money than Monterey to get comparable practical results.

The county administrator's office ranks No. 2 in its cost per capita of operation. Like Avis it "tries harder" and probably soon will be No. 1 as the present board of supervisors seems to approve annual budget increases for this department as automatic procedure.

Mr. Kettenhofen cannot deny his record of voting nor avoid his share of the responsibility in establishing this record. . . .

We need new men on the board who will not approve department budgets for apparently non-essential grandiose operations. Peter Arrigoni has both training and experience in finance.

Candidate's Claim Mis-Statement

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I want to inform the voters of an outright mis-statement of fact on the "Candidate's Statement of Qualifications" which Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, now seeking re-election, has sent with the sample ballot to all voters in the second supervisorial district.

Mr. Kettenhofen states: "This past year my emergency initiative approved by the board, prevented a high density factor in West Marin."

The plain truth is that Mr. Kettenhofen overturned a previous board of supervisors vote allowing .88 density in West Marin development. By a 3-2 vote, he pushed through a density of 1.15. . . .

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Mixed-up Californians Show Deficiency Of State's Primary

LOS ANGELES — Cross-currents of voter opinion surfacing just before the California primary show why none of the Republican or Democratic candidates is likely to get a lock on the nomination before the conventions.

In this biggest state of the Union, swelled by six million new residents from all over the U.S. in the past 10 years, voter wishes as reflected in all the polls reveal two things which cast large doubt on what the party conventions will do when all the evidence is in.

WHAT COMES OUT is startling and puts the front-runners in the primaries in a shaky position. It is this:

1 — Most California Republicans want to nominate Richard Nixon but most California voters want to vote for Nelson Rockefeller in November and say they would do so if given the chance.

2 — Most California Democrats favor Sen. Robert Kennedy over Sen. Eugene McCarthy for the nomination, but also show they would rather vote for Vice President Humphrey or McCarthy in November and would vote more solidly for either one than they would for Kennedy.

These findings emerge from putting together all the recent reports of the two highly respected polling agencies in California, the State Poll and the Field Poll, each of which has a long record of reliability. Here are the specifics:

ROCKEFELLER proves the strongest nominee to head the Republican ticket in California against any Democrat. He defeats them all in this state, Humphrey by 13 per cent, McCarthy by 12 per cent, Kennedy by a massive 20 per cent. Rocky gets almost as many Republican votes as Nixon but draws nearly twice as many Democratic votes as Nixon.

Kennedy proves the weakest Democratic nominee in the response of the voters of California, a state where Democrats and independents predominate. While Rockefeller defeats all three of the Democratic potentials, Kennedy alone loses to Nixon. He loses narrowly — by 2 per cent — but McCarthy defeats Nixon by 8 per cent and Humphrey defeats him by 6 per cent.

California's own governor, Ronald Reagan, loses overwhelmingly in his own state to every Democratic candidate — to McCarthy by 35 per cent, to Humphrey by 33 per cent, and to Kennedy by 17 per cent.

McCarthy and Humphrey run twice as strong against Reagan as Kennedy does. This is not in itself a reflection on Reagan as governor. Californians continue to give Reagan strong approval as governor but, either because they want to keep him as governor or feel he is not adequately prepared for the White House, only 8 per cent favor his nomination for president.

THE INCONSISTENCY of the way the Democrats and to some extent the Republicans vote in the primaries across the nation and the way the voters say they would like to vote in the election in November is sharply pointed up here in California.

Private polls show that Nixon would easily win nomination here, even against unfavorite son Reagan, but when Rockefeller is put to the voters in a trial heat for president against a Democrat, they vote more for Rocky than they do for Nixon.

The same with the Democrats. The polls now show that 31 per cent of California Democrats favor Kennedy; 28 per cent want Humphrey, and 15 choose McCarthy. But in trial heats against Republican opponents, McCarthy outpolls them all, Humphrey next.

These California findings approximately parallel the results of the national polls, except for McCarthy who does not fare so well nationally.

They underline the weakness of the primaries in which two popular candidates, Rockefeller and Humphrey, are absent. They force the politicians of both parties to rely inordinately on the polls because the primaries are so inadequate.

Could Riots Hit Britain? Signs Are Disturbing

By WILLIAM SUNDERLAND

LONDON (UPI)—Could Britain, that paragon of parliamentary government where words replace action, see fighting in the streets such as that rocking Paris?

A few weeks ago the answer would have been "definitely not." Now, many Briton's aren't so sure.

There has been a disturbing groundswell in the country, a public voicing of what up to now have been private feelings.

Enoch Powell started it with his "Keep Britain White" speech—a speech that cost him his position as Conservative party "shadow" defense secretary. It probably cost him his political future, too. But the fact is Powell voiced in public what a large number of Britons feel—colored immigration is getting out of hand and the government should take action against it.

THE MORAL right or wrong of the matter is secondary to the normal worker. His pocketbook and paycheck are involved.

And now a member of government has voiced another feeling that up to now has been kept well hidden in the hearts of law-abiding Englishmen.

The question is whether Parliament is outdated.

Minister of Technology Anthony Wedgwood Benn warned openly that unless the political system in Britain is changed public discontent "could engulf us all in bloodshed."

"It is no good saying it could never happen here—it could," the Laborite government minister said in a speech in Wales Saturday.

WEDGWOOD BENN'S main premises were that the people should be given more voice and know more about what was happening in their government.

He said that much of the "present wave of anxiety, disenchantment and discontent" is aimed at Parliament, whose august halls provided the foundation for the system after which most of Europe's governments are patterned.

Wedgwood Benn's speech ended a week highlighted by some public parliamentary squabbles. To top the list Dame Irene Ward, a 72-year-old Conservative member of Parliament, was forceably removed from the chamber after protesting loudly "the government has turned into a dictatorship."

Naturally, the opposition Conservatives and Liberals are using every such incident to flame public ire against Prime Minister Harold Wilson, whose popularity at the moment is at an all-time low.

Most of the press also is backing the anti-Wilson campaign. The Express, for example, devoted a third of its front page Monday to an editorial saying "There is now no alternative. There must be an immediate general election. The issues are not the concern of the political parties. They are rooted in the survival of democracy in this country."

BUT WILL the British worker, the British student, the British housewife, do anything besides voice—and vote — their discontent?

Action such as Paris is seeing, with anarchical rioting against the government, seems a long way off. But in the current atmosphere of growing discontent, a long way off may not be so far.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Cold Figures Of December Thaw Somewhat By May

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — In December, when the weather in California's capital city is cold and dreary, the state Department of Finance makes its estimates on tax revenues and expenditures to maintain government during the next year.

Usually, just as surely as April showers bring the flowers in May, they also bring a rosier forecast of revenues during May.

These estimates are considerably more than an exercise in forecasting because it is on the figures in these estimates that budgets are made.

THERE WAS A LOT of hue and cry recently, when the administration of Gov. Ronald Reagan released its new revenue and expenditure estimates and, according to pattern, they showed quite a difference from the figures of last December.

In all, state revenues for the current year will be nearly $44 million higher than expected last December. Expenditures will be up by $11 million on the overall, but the costs of Medic-Cal will be $42 million less than had been estimated and costs of the social welfare program will be down by $11 million.

Democrats quickly charged that the Reagan administration had estimated too high last December. This provided the administration the chance, the Democrats claim, to take credit for saving millions through operating economies.

The department of finance, on the other hand, says it has to be conservative in its revenue estimates and make its estimates on expenditures on the pessimistic side. This makes pretty good sense.

IF A NORMAL family breadwinner estimated his income taxes high and his income low and put a bit aside in the budget to take care of emergencies, he well could wind up at the end of the year with a few hundred dollars left that he hadn't anticipated. This, in fact, takes place in many well-run households.

The difference (in most cases) is that, at the end of the year, the Mrs. in the family does not upbraid her husband for making false straw men. She doesn't charge that the whole thing was a contrived budget to keep her from buying new hats.

But it's not so in state government. Political motives have to be suspected on both sides.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A valuable lesson for blabber-mouths, insists historiam Henry Steele Commager, is embodied in his somewhat different version of Jonah and the whale. As this version has it, Jonah was so distressed in the whale's belly that he paced up and down ceaselessly. The whale finally called down angrily, "Cut out that continuous bouncing around, will you? You're ruining my digestion." "You're a fine one to talk," countered Jonah. "If you'd kept your mouth shut, neither of us would be in this fix now."

Q. What did the beaver say to the tree?

A. It was nice gnawing you.

Many Parents Financially Pressed For Care Of Truant Offspring

A story in the Independent-Journal relating the plight of a family whose teen-age daughter had been made a ward of the court has brought a flood of similar — but each heart-breakingly different — tales.

The article on May 9 told about a 15-year-old whose parents are stuck with a large bill for keeping her in the Marin Foundation Friends of Arequipa home in Larkspur.

Another phoned the day after the story appeared to tell about her teen-age son, who has also been through the juvenile court.

"I HAVE BEEN married 22 years, but my husband and I are on the verge of a divorce," this woman said. "I never knew a child could cause so much trouble in a family."

Her son, who had been repeatedly truant from school was sent first to Juvenile Hall and then to an institution in Southern California, for which the parents were billed over $1,000 for a month and one-half stay.

"We still owe money from that bill," the mother said, "and now he is truant again and will probably have to go back."

She added that her husband is in business in Marin County, so he doesn't feel he can refuse to pay the county the bill, and so the family agruments rage.

ANOTHER MOTHER, this one already divorced, is at her wits' end over a running battle with county. Her boy is now at Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo, where the probation officer told her she would be billed only for what she could afford.

However, the county revenue officer, she wrote, is charging her $321 a month, which is about $21 a month more than she earns. She also still owes $715 for the boy's stay in Juvenile Hall, and says that inability to meet one's financial obligations is grounds for dismissal from the job she holds.

"You seem to be more worried about the money than your son," she quotes the boy's probation officer as having told her.

OTHER CALLERS and writers told stories of parents' being told by probation officers that their children would be helped by stays in such institutions and that the money would not be a problem.

Mark Falcone, county revenue officer, says he is charged only with the duty of collecting bills and not the responsibility of whether the youngster should be placed in an institution.

Whether society can place a child in an expensive institution and then demand that the parents, who no longer have any legal control over the youngster, pay the bill has not really been tested in court, according to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

Maloney explained that such charges as the usual $5 a day parents are billed for Juvenile Hall inmates have been ruled legal. The court resasoning, he said, is that parents should not profit by having their children taken from them.

As far as he knows, however, he said, there has been no court test regarding the hundreds of dollars a month that many institutions charge and that parents are being pressed to pay.

Maybe this is the kind of case which would appeal to the American Civil Liberties Union or a private lawyer who likes a crusade.

Irish Honor JFK On 51st Birthday

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — A hillside in southern Ireland was the scene of a ceremony in memory of John F. Kennedy on his 51st birthday yesterday.

More than 500 Americans, including members of the Kennedy family, took part in the opening of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Park near New Ross in County Wexford.

Runoff Elections Held At College

Two other contests decided were college center commissioner, Judy Wallace winning over Donna Leong, 325 to 276, and head yell leader, Linda Gardiner defeating Philip Byrne, 446 to 275.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

A District That Grows Its Own Superintendents

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The Fort Worth (Tex.) Board of Education recently chose as superintendent a man who came up through the ranks in the Fort Worth schools, serving as teacher, principal, then as a member of the superintendent's staff. But in doing so, it felt called upon to apologize.

Reporting the appointment, the May issue of the American School Board Journal quoted Lloyd L. Turner, Fort Worth board president, as saying, "We had a golden opportunity to attack at the top the inbreeding for which this school system is, unforunately, noted."

Nevertheless, said Turner, the board decided Julius G. Truelson, the man who moved up through the ranks, was the outstanding candidate.

TO "ATTACK" at the top the inbreeding," the board wrote a stipulation into Truelson's three-year contract that within a year he must recommend for employment two or more school administrators who hold doc- universities, have varied experience outside Texas, and are willing to be a "change agent" to improve public education in Fort Worth. One of them will be hired as asistant or deputy superintendent.

To one familiar with the rapid movement of superintendents from district to district in California, this report from Texas sounds almost like something from another planet.

FOR A SCHOOL superintendent to be named "from the ranks" in his own district is a rarity nowadays in California public schools. A rundown of the 20 school districts in one county discloses that two of the superintendents had served a year as assistant before being named to the top job; all the other 18 were hired as superintendent from outside the districts they now head.

Longest tenure in office of the 20 is 15 years. One other superintendent in the county has been in office 14 years. None of the 18 others exceeds 10 years. Nine are still on their first contracts with the districts. Three have submitted resignations as of the end of this school year.

RICHARD C. CARLSON conducted a nationwide survey of superintendents for the American Association of School Administrators in 1962. Of those responding, 65 per cent were "outsiders" (hired from outside the district).

Carlson found that there is a financial reason for this. "Beginning outsiders command from $1,000 to $5,000 more a year than beginning insiders," he reported. "Further, the insider never catches up with the outsider."

The same writer reported a survey which followed 35 California superintendents — 12 "insiders" and 23 "outsiders" — during their first two years in office. It found that only three of the 12 "insiders" increased the size of the central office administrative staff during those years, but 14 of the 23 "outsiders" did so. So the "outsiders" not only got more money; they also got more help.

The mobility of superintendents to which this contributes is assisted by the one-way nature of their contracts. Although most California superintendents are hired on four-year contracts, it is quite customary for them to resign in mid-contract if they get a better offer elsewhere.

The situation is almost the complete reversal of that of a generation ago, when a school superintendency was often looked upon as a lifetime job.

IT MAY BE, that California superintendents are more mobile than those in other states. Statistics are lacking (or at least the writer has been unable to find any). But the same issue of the American School Board Journal which reported that the Fort Worth board was worried about its tradition of appointing superintendents from within its own distict carried this item:

"Francis H. Dolan, superintendent since 1947 of the La Salle-Peru (Ill.) Township High School District . . . has announced his retirement."

Grid 'Fixers' Convicted

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Two men accused of trying to fix the outcome of six Louisiana State University football games in 1966 have been convicted by a Federal Court jury.

At the same time, a former LSU football player told a New Orleans television station that anonymous gamblers made telephone calls to him several years earlier.

Convicted last night were Joseph L. "Jojo" Nolan and Samuel "Freddie" Comeaux, both of Baton Rouge. The all-male jury returned guilty verdicts on each of three counts of sports bribery.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge E. Gordon West deferred sentencing. Maximum penalty on each count is a $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

The case went to the jury late yesterday after Judge West, in his charge to the panel, gave a lengthy explanation of the amount of importance jurors should place on testimony by a co-conspirator.

Samuel J. Graziano, a Baton Rouge barber who pleaded guilty to the same charge Monday, linked Nolan and Comeaux to the conspiracy.

Graziano testified that Nolan and Comeaux gave him $12,000 to pass on to three LSU players in an attempt to influence their play.

The three players—Jim Dousay, Gawain DiBetta and Billy Masters—worked with the FBI on the case. All have since graduated.

Dousay testified he had been told by the defendants that two other ex-LSU players—Joe Labruzzo and Don Schwab—had received $50,000 from gamblers. Labruzzo and Schwab wound up their varsity football careers in 1965.

Schwab, now coaching at a New Orleans high school, said in an interview with WVUE-TV Sports Director Buddy DiLiberto last night that gamblers had contacted him on the telephone while he was at LSU.

He said both he and Labruzzo reported the contacts to Tiger Coach Charlie McClendon and the late James Corbett, then LSU's athletic director.

Schwab said he had been aware of many rumors that he was supposed to "have been mixed up with gamblers, particularly when we lost some tough games in 1964, and although it really upset me, I kept quiet about them.

"It really hurt my father, who has a bad heart," added Schwab.

Dousay, in his testimony, said he felt the gamblers weren't telling the truth about the $50,000.

Mays Ruins Cards—

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie Mays keeps restin' and relaxin' while the San Francisco Giants keep a-movin' and a-groovin'.

And the St. Louis Cardinals keep fading away.

Mays ripped a two-run homer for the second night in a row and pushed the Giants into a 1½-game lead in the National League with a 2-1 victory over the Cardinals last night. And Juan Marichal kept pacing the league's pitchers by posting his eighth victory against two losses.

Willie has been taking a rap because he'll sit out a game every once in a while. And Mays doesn't care what anybody says, because it's hard to argue with his game-winning hits.

"A couple of guys have criticized me when I sat out, but I'm looking out for myself," the 37-year-old Willie says. "And for the club. So I don't care what people say.

"I'm not an iron man and I never will be," Mays added. "When I get tired I'm dead and when you're tired and the pressure that comes with it, I'm just not able to do it."

Mays was doing it against the Cardinals. St. Louis was ahead 1-0 on Lou Brock's first-inning run. Then Ron Hunt doubled with one away in the third and another out later Mays sent his ninth homer of the year and 573rd lifetime deep into the left field seats.

Those point-proving homers jumped Mays into a tie for the league's home-run lead with three others. Two of them are Giants. And it made a loser out of Nelson Briles, 5-3.

Willie says those two homers don't make a year, but he's hoping his R and R will make it a Giant year.

"I've come to the conclusion that somedays I got to sit out," Willie explained" I think I can do more my way than going all the time and coasting."

The victory was sweeter still for Marichal because it evened

Perfume Burners Own Everything At Indy

My man at the track is Robert J. Collins, the sports editor of the Indianapolis Star, the literary equivalent of Ralph Ligouri, a jaunty fellow known in the pits as "Crash" Collins, an irreverent observer who, when told that Andy Granatelli's turbine would run on anything — perfume, whiskey, kerosene, crude oil — suggested they put Andy in the tank to "see if it would run on baloney." All right, Robert. Start your engine!

"Dear Jimmy,

"Sorry you won't be with us for the 1968 500-mile race. Most of the Speedway feel as bad as they did when they heard Hitler couldn't make it. They went out and spent a lot of money when they thought you might be coming. They got vaccinated.

Drivers Just Can't See Murray

"The drivers still stick up for you. I heard a conversation that went like this: First driver: 'You see Jim Murray?! Second driver: 'Nope. And I never could!

"As you know, there are certain traditional things that happen at the speedway. Some tenor blows the lines to 'Back Home in Indiana.' They send up all those balloons. And Ralph Ligouri crashes.

"This year, things are proceeding as that Frenchman had in mind when he said, 'The more things change, the more they are the same.' For example, (1) Ralph Ligouri crashed; and (2) Everybody is mad.

"Now, I don't know what 'turbine' means. But it has something to do with taking cold air in at one end of the car and blowing it out hot through the other. You cannot only win the race, you can make toast on the way.

"After last year's race, in which Parnelli Jones seemed likely to finish in time for lunch and be on his second cup of coffee before the second car came in, they changed the rules to restrict the turbines.

"Andy Granatelli, the STP man, took it to court. He claimed there was no way his cars would be competitive under the new rules.

"And he was right.

"As of this writing, the perfume-burners are all over the front of the race. Everybody else is racing for fourth.

Greatest Sales Promotion Job

"Andy has done one of the greatest sales promotion jobs in the history of sports. Any fellow at the track that doesn't have an STP sticker on his nose has been lying on his face all day.

"The consensus is, with the turbines leading the way, the race will be quieter than a burglary. MCA-TV may have to use the soundtrack from an old Clark Gable movie for the closed circuit.

"As usual, I will get all choked up after they play 'Back Home in Indiana' and they have the start of the race — which you admit is the most exciting moment in all sports. Because, only then, I will realize that I will not have you to retire with me to the Champion Sparkplug room for a few choruses of 'Galway Bay' and a few hoists of ale to toast our idol, Ralph Ligouri.

"Keep well. Keep off the freeways. They're dangerous. Your friend (if you promise not to tell racing people), Bob Collins."

All right, Crash. I just hope the race isn't won by an ambulance or that it is more of a test of asbestos than of engines.

Track Plumber Easy Golden Gate Winner

ALBANY (AP) — Track Plumber easily scored a three length victory in the featured $6,000 Montclair Purse at Golden Gate Fields yesterday.

Hunter's Dreamy Victory

OAKLAND (AP)—Pitcher Jim Hunter of the Oakland Athletics must have thought he was dreaming.

There he was, walking off the Oakland Coliseum mound with a 7-4 victory over the American League champion Boston Red Sox.

Hunter, 5-3, started shakily and had trouble in the ninth inning but was great in between as he beat the Red Sox.

RUSHED

"I was rushing in the first inning," Hunter said. "I like to pitch fast but sometimes I get going too fast."

Hunter gave up three runs in the first but only one was earned. Manager Bob Kennedy of the A's came out and talked to him after Hunter loaded the bases.

"I told him to slow down," Kennedy said. "And I reminded him that he only had a chance to play every fifth day. He realized he had a lot at stake."

Boston ace Jose Santiago, 5-3, was pounded for six runs and nine hits in the first four innings and took the loss.

"I have said ever since spring training that we can win if we hit," said Kennedy. "The pitchers have been doing a great job all year.

STREAKS

He did it all with only one hit, doubling home two in the first and bringing in two others with an infield out and sacrifice fly.

Duffers Try To Beat Nicklaus' 71

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus shot a 71 yesterday for duffers around the country to try to beat in a National Golf Day competition.

The reigning U.S. Open champion fired the one-under-par round on the Atlanta Country Club course in the pro-am tuneup to today's start of the Atlanta Classic. Nicklaus set the Golf Day standard by beating PGA Don January who had a 74.

Competitors in National Golf Day play in the next three weeks can win a plastic bag tab from the PGA by beating Nicklaus' score.

Nicklaus almost eagled the par five 18th hole, when he slammed his second shot seven feet from the pin. He missed the putt but still managed a birdie, his third on the backside where he shot a 34 after a 37 on the opening nine.

Ring Promoter Silverman Indicted On Bribery Rap

BOSTON (AP) — Boxing promoter Sam Silverman, 54, was free in $10,000 bond today while under Federal indictment on bribery charges involving a preliminary bout fighter.

Silverman, who helped Rocky Marciano get started toward the heavyweight championship and later promoted bouts in which Tony DeMarco and Paul Pender won titles, is accused of conspiring with Peter Joseph Dowd, a Jacksonville, Fla., boxer, to "influence by bribery a boxing contest" the FBI said.

The indictment included two counts relating to sports bribery and two relating to interstate transportation in aid of racketeering, namely bribery. The latter two counts represent alleged long distance phone calls between New England and Florida.

BOSTON FIGHTER

Petey Dowd, listed in ring record book as a Boston lightweight, had a 3-1-1 record in 1967. He had four fights in Jacksonville before he was knocked out in the seventh round of a fight promoted by Silverman last Dec. 7 in Portland, Maine.

Dowd, who is not charged with any wrongdoing, had been scheduled to meet Leo Defiore in an eight-round semifinal at Portland tonight.

Maine officals ordered the bout canceled, and Kid Petito of New York was named to replace Dowd against DeFiore.

Silverman entered boxing while a senior in high school, managing the brief career of a classmate in 1930. By the time he was 26, he was promoting weekly shows in a dozen New England cities.

He moved into the big time, promoting in Boston, in 1944. With the decline in the sport's popularity in recent years, he has remained active by promotions in such cities as Portland, Lewiston and Bangor in Maine, and Worcester, Mass.

Hypodermic Needle Costly For Trainer

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Edward Hess, 24, of Lancaster, Pa., a trainer suspended because traces of phenylbutazone were found in a horse he raced, was fined $500 yesterday for illegal possession of a hypodermic needle.

Hess was the trainer of Wee Salute, who finished first in a race at Berkshire Downs in Hancock May 18. Urinalysis later showed traces of phenylbutazone, an illegal medication which cost Dancer's Image the Kentucky Derby, and Hess was suspended from the track.

'I Pay Him No Mind,' Says Mays About Leo

ST. LOUIS — Willie Mays brushed off Leo Durocher's critical remarks about his weekend rest in Wrigley Field. "I pay him no mind," said Mays.

There was a time when Mays did pay attention to everything Durocher told him. That was when Durocher was his manager and Mays was a 20-year-old bundle of energy.

DUROCHER WAS very close to the rookie Mays in 1951 and remained so until 1955 when his tenure as manager of the Giants ended. However, he hasn't been close to Mays in the last 13 years.

"There's no way in the world that Mays should be rested when the Giants play in Wrigley Field, a hitter's ball park," said Durocher after Willie sat out last Sunday's game and played only four innings of Saturday's game.

Durocher said he wasn't criticizing Herman Franks for permitting Mays to rest but that's precisely what was implied in his remakrs. Franks, as one of Durocher's coaches in the '50s, knew Mays as a frisky colt. Franks, as manager of the Giants, knows the 37-year-old Mays whose energy no longer is boundless and periodically reaches the point of exhaustion.

FRANKS CAREFULLY watches Mays for signs of fatigue. He detected them at the outset of the present road trip in Atlanta. But because the big bat of Willie McCovey was missing from the lineup, Franks didn't rest Mays in Atlanta.

Mays did considerable centerfield patrol duty during the four-game series with the Braves. He raced to right center and he raced to left center to make catches. And he also delivered a game-winning hit, his eighth of the season.

BY THE TIME the team reached Chicago Mays' face was lined with fatigue. To anyone who doesn't know how Mays plays baseball it seems laughable that Mays should become exhausted playing a game.

But baseball is Willie's work and he does his job uniquely. He never takes his eye off the ball from first to last pitch. Baseball reporters have tested Willie's recall from time to time and it is total. He knows every pitch and he knows where every hit went. He truly is amazing.

MAYS DOESN'T exhaust himself by physical action. He drains himself mentally with the indirect result being physical exhaustion. Mays knows this. So does Franks.

There is no way Mays can prevent it because, as Willie says, "It's the onliest way I know how to play."

Rams Swap Pope To The Falcons

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Falcons have acquired Los Angeles Rams end Bucky Pope in trade for linebacker Bob Sanders and guard Jim Wilson.

Pope, 6 feet, 5, 205 pounds, is a three-year National Football League veteran and has caught 34 passes, 13 for touchdowns during his career.

Sanders was a ninth round draft choice in 1966 from North Texas State and Wilson is a former All-American lineman at the University of Georgia.

Terra Linda Pins Its Hopes On Timmel's Magic Arm

It's probably all going to depend on his magic pitching arm, where a major part of the hopes of Terra Linda High School will be riding when they go against El Canino at 8 o'clock tonight in the first round of the fifth annual Redwood Baseball Tournament of Champions at Albert Field, San Rafael.

Timmel, a big, dark-haired, long-armed junior, is the fellow who played a major part in putting the Trojans under the lights tonight on a fabulous 10-0 Marin County Athletic League record, including two straight 1-0 wins, the last a title-clincher over Novato.

SLIDER SPECIAL

Although Timmer has been a varsity Trojan for two years now, the big season may have germinated (1) last summer during the American Legion baseball season and (2) when Jess Payan told a young frosh pitcher about a slider.

"I think the Legion season helped me a lot," Mike said. "Pitching eight, nine innings made it easier to work a lot during the league for shorter innings."

Timmel was 8-0 with an 0.75 earned run average for Novato's American Legion team and that gave him an inkling of what the MCAL year might be like.

TITLE THOUGHTS

"I didn't think it might be anything like 10-0," he said, "but, after that Legion season, I thought I'd do pretty well. Still, you don't think about a perfect record all that much, you think about winning the championship."

It was when Mike was a freshman that Payan, then the frosh coach, showed him how to use the slider, a favorite and effective weapon in today's major league pitching artillery.

"I've worked on it ever since," he said. "It's my best pitch, easily. It looks like a fast ball then breaks away."

Timmel's techniques are by no means foolproof but he hopes to make it in the big leagues and he knows the kinks he has to iron out.

"I've got to work on my fast ball," he said. "I've got to start throwing inside, jamming the hitter more. Everybody has known that I don't throw at the batter, so they start looking for the outside pitch. That's something I have to work on, and I've been trying to improve on it."

BAG OF TRICKS

For a junior in high school, Timmel has a varied bag of tricks. He can effectively throw a curve, fast ball, slider and knuckle ball, which can get him by in a lot of leagues.

"There are some guys who hit me pretty well, though," he said. "I've always had trouble with Barry Beringer (Novato), Mike Einstein (Tamalpais) and Gary Welch (San Rafael)."

Timmel refuses to take the big share of the credit for the Trojans' championship season.

"The whole team did that," he said. "I can't win without hitting and fielding. We've got some great guys."

NO PROBLEMS

He doesn't see any problems about overconfidence next year, when almost the entire squad returns.

"Coach Payan won't let us get a big head," he said. "He's not that kind of coach. You just wouldn't."

"A lot of people don't think we have a chance in the tourney," he said. "But I think if we win that first one, we'll get into the finals."

And that first one will be Timmel's.

"It's about time I got even with them," Marichal grinned. "But everything has to change. But I still think this is the team to beat, no matter how they're going. No matter what happens they're going to be in it."

Strike Disrupts French Net Open

PARIS (AP) — Some 33 men and nine women were forced to default yesterday when they were unable to reach the French Open Tennis Championships because of the nationwide work stoppage plaguing France.

In the matches that were played, the professionals received one scare after another but overcame their amateur opponents in each case.

Among those listed as non-arrivals were Lew Hoad of Australia, Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., Wilhelm Bungert of West Germany, Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli and the contingents from Japan and India.

Fred Stolle, an Australian pro, struggled for more than two hours before overcoming Chrustian Duxin, 13th-ranked French amateur, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

EMERSON RALLIES

Roy Emerson of Australia, a rookie pro, dropped the first set to Lonny Parum of New Zealand before winning 5-7, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. Ken Rosewall, another Australian, outlasted Tom Edlefsen of San Francisco 10-8, 6-1, 6-1. The first set lasted almost an hour.

Pancho Gonzales turned back Ray Keldie of Australia 6-2, 6-0, 3-6, 6-3. Rod Laver, the red-haired Australian who ranks as the top pro, crushed Lance Lumsden of Jamaica, B.W.I. 6-1, 6-1, 6-4.

In matches between amateurs, Marx Cox of England defeated Bernard Paul of France 6-1, 6-1, 6-1; Dick Crealy of Australia beat Mike Sangster of England 9-7, 3-6, 4-6, 6-2, 6-0; Bobby Wilson of England won from Jean Claude Molinari of France 6-4, 3-1 and default when Molinari came up with a sore elbow, and Bob Hewitt of South Africa topped Jacques Thanin of France 6-1, 7-5, 6-0.

Way Is Cleared For Night Racing

SAN MATEO (AP) — Parimutuel clerks ratified yesterday a wage settlement that cleared the way for tonight's opening of California's first night racing season.

The voting, by clerks at Hollywood Park and Golden Gate Fields, was 572-130 in favor of a compromise said to be $2 for night differential.

Night racing had been scheduled to begin at San Mateo's Bay Meadows last Thursday but Pari-Mutuel Guild Local 280 demanded a 10 per cent differential, which would average between $3.50 and $7.

The FISHIN' FOOL

STEVENS

Local anglers who spent sometime fishing at Lake Pardee did very good for themselves, according to a release from the East Bay area. On the weekend of May 17-19 anglers did a good job with Kokanee salmon heading the list. Seventy-three fishermen reported hooking 130 of them. They were caught by trolling various silver and red lures. Black bass angling was also reported as good with several largemouth running as high as 8 and 10 pounds. The catfishermen had a field day with a few lunkers going to 10 pounds.

WITH TODAY beginning a four-day weekend, there will probably be a record catch. Here's hoping it happens.

However those fishermen who didn't go rock fishing aboard the large party boat, Blue Horizon, missed one of the most productive trips on Saturday. Bette Urbais of the boat and tackle shop at Sausalito reported 18 passengers and 18 limits of rockfish of large size.

"THE BLUE HORIZON fished north of the Farallones. The fish were large reds between 8 and 10 pounds, also large were the blue rockfish and 30 ling cod to 30 pounds were boated," said Bette.

She also reported the boats working from her harbor did very well on salmon off Point Reyes; half of the salmon were kings and half were silvers.

Bette didn't report on the action of the other nine boats headquartering at the Sausalito Boat and tackle Shop.

IF YOU LIKE your trout fishing closer to home, 23 streams and lakes were stocked this week with catchable sized trout. By counties: Mendocino: Hammerhorn Lake and the east branch of the Russian River. Lake: Anderson Creek, Kelsey Creek and upper Blue Lake. Napa: Hennessy Lake Impoundment. Sonoma: Lake Ralphine. Marin: Lagunitas Lake and Rodeo Lagoon. San Francisco: Lake Merced. San Mateo: Pescadero Creek and Gazos Creek. Santa Clara: Stevens Creek Reservoir. Santa Cruz: Corralitos Creek, Loch Lomond Reservoir, San Lorenzo River and Fall Creek. Monterey: Big Sur River, Upper Arroya Seco Creek and Lower Arroyo Creek. San Louis Obispo: Atascadero Lake, Lopez Creek and the Lower Nacimiento River.

Understand this or any schedule is dependent on weather and water conditions and may be changed without notice if water conditions are not suitable for trout.

100-Lap Hardtop Race Tomorrow

First major race of the Petaluma 1968 NASCAR hardtop racing season will be tomorrow night when the leadfoots battle it out in a 100-lap main event.

Qualifying begins at 7 o'clock on the Petaluma Fairgrounds oval, with first race scheduled for 8 o'clock. Normally, main events at the Petaluma quarter-mile track are for 20 laps.

Rain washed out activities last Friday night after qualifying was just about to begin. It was Petaluma's first rainout of the season.

PREP NOTES

Classy Field At Stake Track Meet

By GARY TISCHLER

The little Olympics of the United States is what some California fans have called the annual California High School state track and field championships, and it's not bragging too much.

There will be another classy, mammoth field on hand when the 50th annual edition gets underway tomorrow at Berkeley's Edwards Field on the University of California campus. Some 506 prep athletes will be there, including a whopping total of 10 from the Marin County Athletic League.

To of the ten stand a better than even chance of making the finals in four events. Both Lowell Harris, Terra Linda's premier hurdler, and Alan Lee, unbeaten dashman from Tamalpais, will have the races of their lives in the hurdles and sprints.

TAM RELAY

The Tamalpais 440 relay team of Lee, Luther Brown, Leroy Barrow and Rick Hewitt will be in a thick field of top-flight performances but they could surprise. Also in the 440 field is San Rafael's relay team.

San Rafael's 440 relay team will be in heat one at 4:20 p.m. The Tam relay team goes at 4:30.

Harris will be in the first heat of the 120 high hurdles at 5:20 p.m. Lee goess in the third heat of the 100-yard dash at 5:10 and in the third heat of the 220 at 6:10. Harris will be in the third heat of the 180 low hurdles at 6:30 p.m.

The field event trials start at 4 p.m. Ron Sparling of Novato is competing in the shot put.

NORTH COAST leftovers Leroy Barrow, who did not compete in the 440 at the North Coast meet, was inserted in the mile relay for Tamalpais and came up with a 49.1 split, which is moving.

AMAZING

The amazing success of the Tamalpais 440 relay team is even more amazing when you consider that Luther Brown, third leg of the relay, doesn't even work out. Nursing an injured ankle, Brown spends smost of his time in a whirlpool. The Indians workout with graduated Reggie Walker and that brief span from Barrow to Lee is the only running Brown can do. It puts a minor crimp on the handoffs but the Indians have nevertheless come up with great winning time.

Somebody that didn't make the first edition was Tom Worth of Redwood, who gets a small "we try harder" award. Worth turned in an all-out finish in the two-mile, which left him in the middle of the pack but he passed up both Bob Bunnell of Terra Linda and Darrel Walton of Novato, the MCAL's "big" names in the two-mile. Nice run.

WISH I HAD'NT Said That Dept.: Terra Linda baseball coach Jesss Payan commented early in the season, after Mike Timmel shut out hard-hitting Lincoln of San Francisco, that the junior hurler didn't impress him all that much. Well, 10-0 later, Payan is happily taking it all back.

"I'm willing to admit I said that," Payan said. "And I'm really glad to take it back, too."

CHANGES — The Marin County Athletic League's basketball games will have a new look next season. The junior varsity will be playing along with the varsity in the evenings while the Class B teams, perennial evening warmup stars, will play in the afternoon, according to Tam Coach Bernie Schneider.

STOPPING SHORT — The unanimous election of both Redwood's Ken Johnson and Terra Linda's Dave Edson at all-league shortstop gave some well-deserved recognition to Edson, who, for the past three seasons has been high up in the MCAL batting statistics.

Edson, Terra Linda's starting signal caller in football, was runnerup in batting, and was the Trojan captain in baseball. He never struck out this season, something of a rarety these days.

In any other year, Rob Nelson of Tamalpais might have been the first-team shortstop. The junior Indian drove in 11 runs, and hit .400, which was only good enough for second-team honors this year.

By DON CARTER

A bowler should concentrate on "out and over" when she is delivering her ball. She should be certain that her ball lands well out on the lane, as much as 6 to 12 inches Many bowlers honestly believe they are getting their ball out and over the line, when they are actually setting it down behind the line. Have a teammate check you on this point if you are not sure.

Marin Lands Three Lacrosse All-Stars

The Marin Lacrosse Club landed two starters and an alternate on the 1968 North All-Star squad which meets the South All-Stars in the annual Northern California Lacrosse Association battle at Stanford Sunday at 2 p.m.

Midfieldmen Dale Hart and Bob Heaton of Marin were named to the all-star team while goalie Dick Treadwell was nameed an alternate.

Le Mans Race Is Postponed

LE MANS, France (AP) — The 24-hour Le Mans auto race has been postponed indefinitely because of the social upheaval in France, the organizers have announced.

The race was scheduled for June 15-16, but June 16 is the date chosen by President Charles de Gaulle for a nationwide referendum he hopes will solve the nationwide worker and student strike.

The Automobile Club of the West said it is considering July 13-14, but this conflicts with the Watkins Glen, N.Y., race in the United States. Also under consideration is the weekend of Sept. 28-29.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, May 30, the 151st day of 1968 with 215 to follow. This is Memorial Day.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Saturn and Venus. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history

In 1883 an unfounded report that the Brooklyn bridge was about to collapse caused a panic in which 12 persons were trampled to death.

In 1937 a total of 10 persons were killed and 90 wounded in a battle between police and strikers at the Republica Steel Corporation trying to shut down a plant in South Chicago.

In 1964 A. J. Foyt won the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, in which drivers Eddie Sachs and Dave McDonald were killed on the second lap.

A thought for the day: Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere, before him, I may think aloud."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Player Takes Investment Role With Assets To Produce Profit

A good bridge columnist stays away from ideology, but one must note the fact that contract bridge seems to flourish in capitalist countries. Perhaps one reason is that the capitalistic bridge player sees the advantage of investing part of his assets to produce a profit.

THE ACTION

The actual South player, not an investor, took the nine of spades and gave up a club. West stepped up with the jack of clubs in order to return another spade.

South won, ruffed a club in dummy, cashed the ace of hearts and ruffed a heart. Then declarer drew the last trump and ran the three diamonds, discarding a club from his hand.

Unfortunately, South still had a losing club and eventually had to give that up for a one-trick defeat. South scored 50 points because of his honors, but this was a pale imitation of what he should have earned.

GIVES UP TRICK

South must invest a diamond trick to make the slam. He gets only two diamond tricks instead of three, but scores 1,580 instead of 50 points.

After giving up a club and getting a spade return, South must lead a heart to the ace and ruff a heart. Only then can he afford to ruff a club in dummy. This enables him to ruff another heart.

DRAWS TRUMPS

South draws the last trump, discarding the low diamond from dummy. This limits declarer to two diamond tricks instead of three.

Declarer then leads a diamond to dummy's queen, ruffs another heart, and leads the king of diamonds to dummy's ace. Dummy's last two hearts are good, and South uses one of them to make up for the invested diamond trick and the other good heart enables him to fulfill his slam contract.

NEW YORK (AP) — In a study of the first 10 months of 1967, Industrial Photography Magazine reported that West Germany received 125 U.S. photographic patents, Japan received 25, Switzerland 18 and Great Britain 17.

American applicants received 730 patents.

During the first 10 months of 1966, there were 1,187 photo patents granted in the United States. The decline to 992, for the same period in 1967, is believed to be due to a new Supreme Court ruling on "obviousness" as a disqualifying factor.

What's the Use?
It's Memorial Day

AND, as everybody knows people don't read ads on Memorial Day, or Easter, or Christmas. Or New Year's. Or in the summer.

UNFORTUNATELY, "everybody" is wrong.

ADVERTISING readership doesn't take a dip in the summer.

NEWSPAPER readership doesn't go downhill during the skiing season or the haying season.

WE'VE celebrated many Memorial Days at the Independent-Journal. We've seen many summers. And we've learned that readership of both editorial and advertising pages stays at the same high level every day of every week and month of the year.

NO MATTER where you advertise, "season is no reason to draw a blank with your customers and prospects.

EVEN during holidays, people read.

THANKS for helping us prove it.

And — Oh, Yes,
Have a Good Holiday!

THE HOUSE AT THE TOP
We mean just that. The lot is level, yet at the top of Buckeye Circle, with a breathtaking view. The back portion is wooded like a park, with a small creek and your own picnic area. The house is nestled on the front of this spectacular lot, and is brand new and probably the only one of its kind in this area. Built on the lines of a Tahoe ski lodge, the walls are heavy log construction, yet the interior is very plush, with the finest acrilon carpeting, all-elec. kitchen with avocado green appliances, marble top vanities in the bathrooms, cathedral ceilings in the staircase and upstairs bedrooms, natural cedar ceilings accentuate the exposed beams thruout. A rear sun deck is extended over the creek. Spanish tile floors in the kitchen, laundry room and the bathrooms. The whole house is completely insulated beyond what this area calls for. A heavy shake roof completes this truly top house. Price only $32,000.

GERALD R. SOUZA
Policeman of the year

DAVID TURRINI
Fireman of the year

Outstanding Firemen, Policeman Selected

A San Rafael police inspector and a San Rafael fireman have been named outstanding fireman and policemen of the year by the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

Inspector Gerald Souza won the police officer's award because he acted on an educated hunch. Capt. David P. (Buck) Turrini won the fireman's award for sharing life-giving compressed air with another fireman in a smoke-filled apartment house.

Turrini won for his bravery when Fireman Fred M. Shipley lost his portable air supply as he and Turrini searched the third floor of a burning apartment at 1364 Grand Avenue on Feb. 23, 1967.

Turrini shared air from his back pack with Shipley until they could both get out of the building. The Marin County Association of Fire Departments previously had named Turrini fireman of the year for the feat.

On Feb. 12, 1968, a man deposited $50 at the Bank of Marin. He returned that afternoon to deposit a fraudulent $700 check in the same account, then called the next morning to make certain the acount was all right.

On a hunch, Souza staked out the bank. When the man appeared and tried to cash a check for $576, he was captured. By transmitting a description of the man's two partners over police radios, Souza had them captured a few blocks away from the bank.

Oregon Firm Blamed For Marin's Too-Smelly Gas

A rash of complaints about minor gas leaks hit Pacific Gas and Electric Co. this week after an Oregon processing company inserted too much of an odor producing chemical into the gas lines earlier this week.

Marin residents have been calling PG&E service men at the rate of 70 calls an hour for the past two days complaining about gas leaks which became noticeable with the extra chemical, according to Guy E. Tanneyhill, North Bay division gas superintendent.

A chemical, mercapin, is mixed into the normally odorless natural gas for a safety measure, Tanneyhill said. Too much odor was produced when the gas, which is piped from Canada, contained some natural odor producing chemicals which had not been refined out of it in Canada.

The smelly gas entered the North Bay division area at Vallejo Tuesday night, and then the calls started. Tanneyhill expects the problem to solve itself by this evening as the last of the gas is used up.

Minute gas leaks which had never shown up before became noticeable with the stronger odor. They are not dangerous, Tanneyhill said, because they release very little gas.

However, all available service men have been working around the clock to check out each leak. Leaks inside buildings have been repaired and thoes outside have been noted for future repair, he said.

Hanoi Cites Peace Talks Potential, Repeats Stand

COMBINED AP & UPI

TOKYO — North Vietnam said today there are "many concrete problems" to be discussed at the Paris peace talks but Hanoi's demand for an unconditional halt of U.S. military actions against North Vietnam must be settled first.

"Only when a solution is found to this question can other problems of concern to the two sides be taken up," said the party daily Nhan Dan.

The Nhan Dan article was written by "a commentator," a popular pseudonym for a high-ranking official. It was broadcast in English by the Vietnam news agency (VNA).

Meanwhile Cyrus Vance, the number two U.S. negotiator at the Paris Preliminary peace talks with North Vietnam, says America will continue to counter Communist attacks on the battlefield while seeking peace at the conference table.

After conferring with President Johnson and briefing the Cabinet Wednesday, Vance pledged that the talks will "go to the very end" to produce a settlement of the war. He cautioned that the talk would be long and difficult.

Vance said it was "very difficult to engage in serious discussions" as long as North Vietnam refuses to acknowledge it has 85,000 troops in the South. "We hope this fantasy will disappear," he said. The United States, he said, will stick to its present negotiating stance.

In Paris, American sources said President Johnson has approved chief U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman's present goal of obtaining a gesture of de-escalation from Hanoi and then proposing an immediate ceasefire in Vietnam.

Terra Linda Art Group Studying

More than 200 members of the Terra Linda Art Association, along with their paintings, sculpture, graphics, crafts and other art works, will line Northgate Fashion Mall tomorrow and Saturday for the fifth annual outdoor art show, celebrating the Memorial Day Weekend.

Highlighting the show this year will be action demonstrations by many of the artists — painting, printing fabric, shaping pottery. All art works on display will be available for sale — and artists will be exhibiting their best works to compete for top prizes in their respective categories.

There will be artists sketching from live models or batik printing with a wax-resist process traditionally used for a unique result in dying color on fabric. Other artists will be painting in oils and watercolors and construction collarges.

Sounds, as well as sights, are planned for Saturday's entertainment. A special uniformed marching band, a Dixieland jazz group (the Good Time Dixie Seven) and the stage band of the Terra Linda High School will provide music throughout the day.

Visitors to the festival are encouraged to meet the artists and, if they have the creative inclination, to join the group of the Terra Linda Art Association, whether professional artists or novice students.

When Tom Buchanan, an ex-advertising executive currently in the automotive business, founded the association about five years ago, he approached some of his fellow students in the evening course at College of Marin, who lived in Terra Linda. From these small beginnings, the association now numbers over 300 people.

The Terra Linda Art Show will be presented from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow and from 9:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Young Bullies Get A Surprise

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Police said three men in a car who hooted at a motorcyclist and crowded him off a city street had a rude surprise when they found out he was a police officer.

Officers said the car driver climbed out and swung a heavy belt at cyclist Ray Cleveland, 26, who whipped off his leather jacket and flashed his police badge and .38 caliber service revolver.

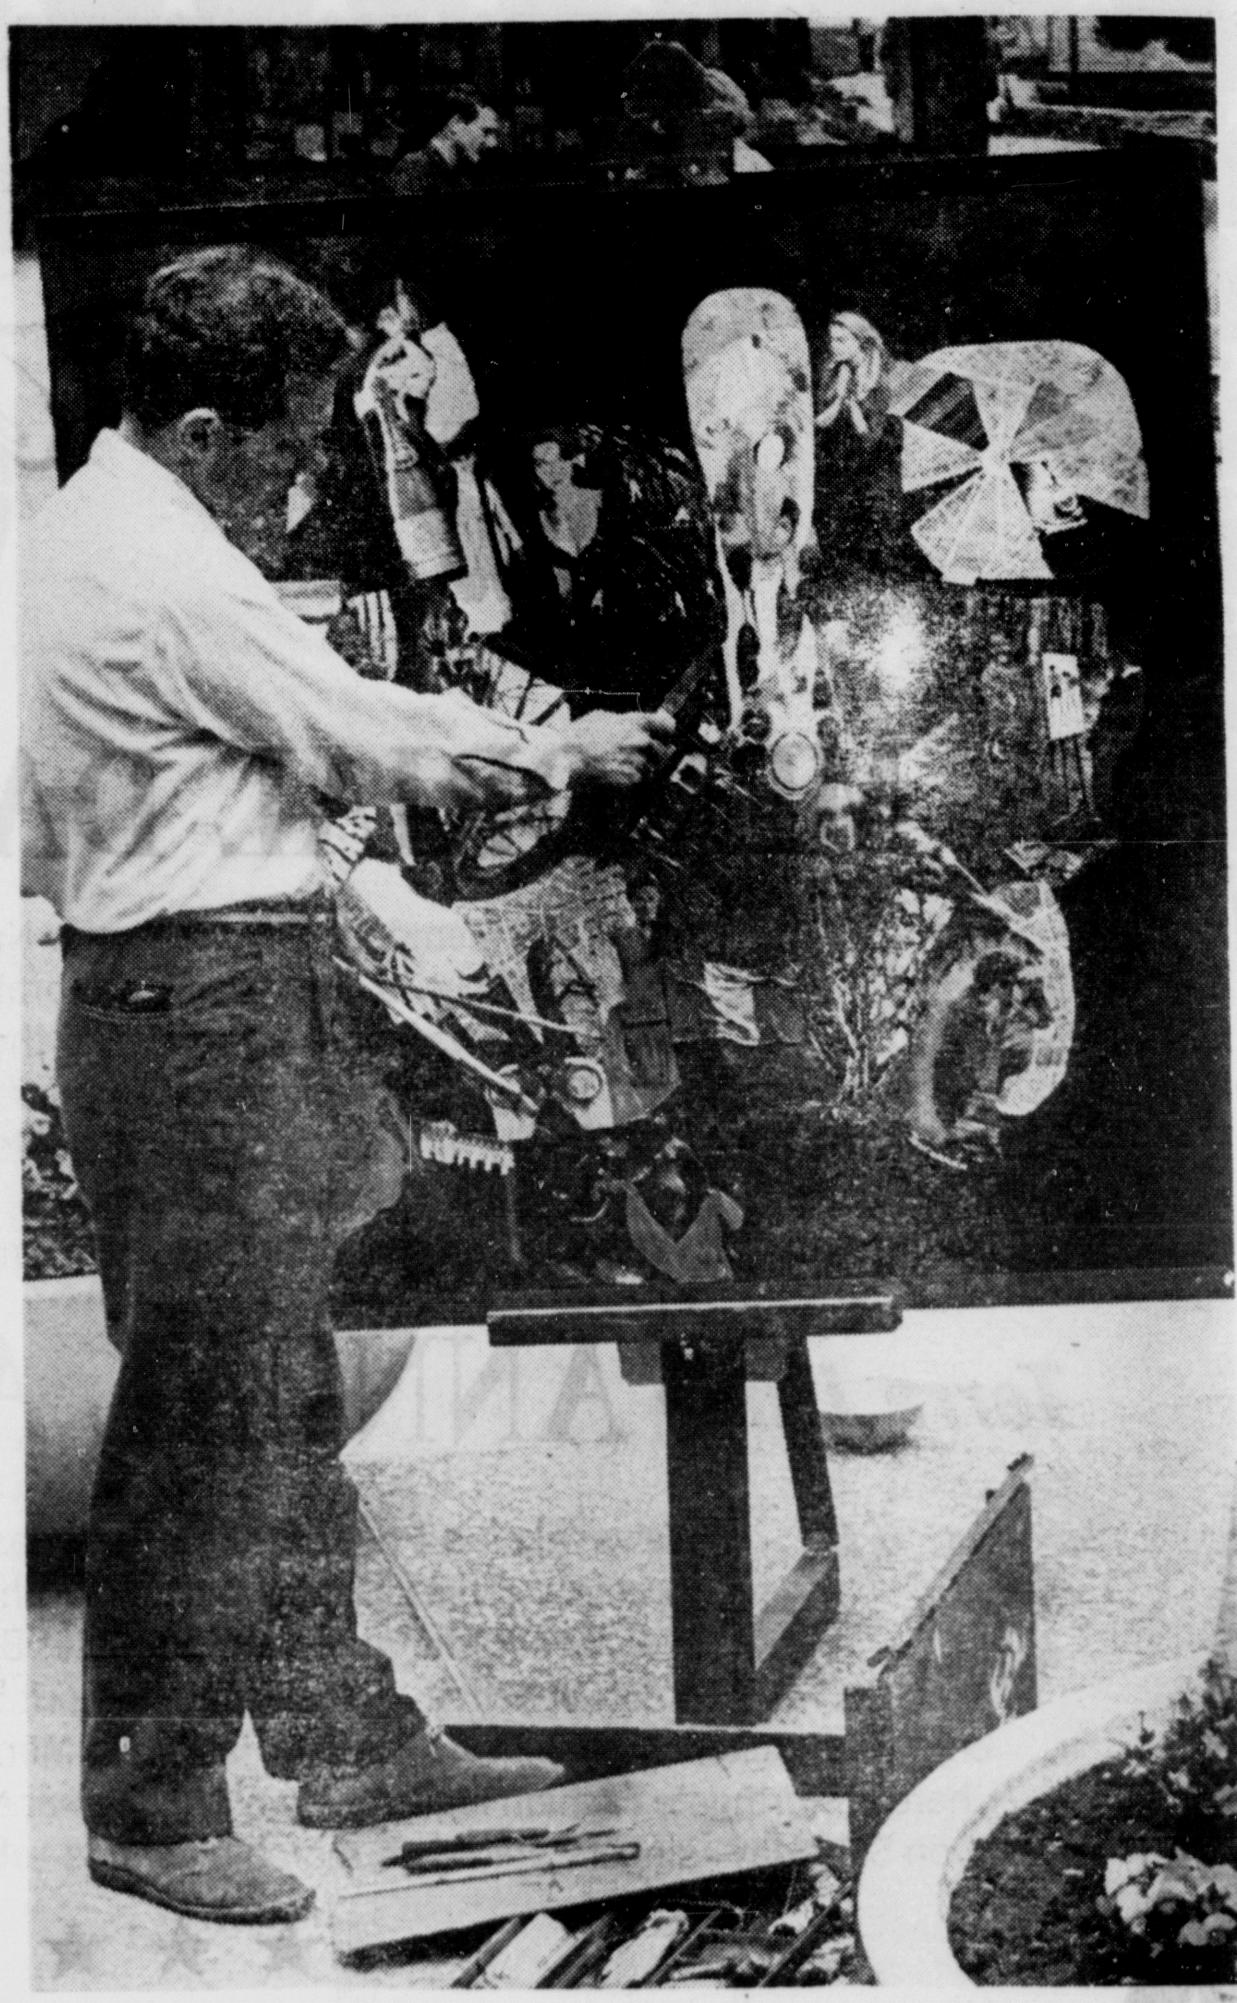
But Gives A Hint

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Although the letters in a key word on a bulletin board at a local high school were juggled around, they still made sense.

The announcement read: "Tonight — PTA Broad Meeting."



TO DEMONSTRATE AT NORTHGATE. Tom Buchanan, founder of the Terra Linda Art Association, shows a technique for collage. He will be at Northgate Fashion Mall tomorrow and Saturday demonstrating his methods of art work, along with nearly 200 other local artists.

Maestro Has A Busy Time

HONOLULU (AP) — The musical director of the Honolulu Symphony, Robert LaMarchina, had to turn in a dual performance — as conductor and soloist — at a recent concert here.

LaMarchina, an accomplished cellist, solved the problem by taking over the soloist role, turning his conductor's baton over to the symphony's associate conductor, Yoshimi Takeda.

After the cello number — "Concerto in B Minor for Cello and Orchestra" by Antonin Dvorak — La Marchina returned to the podium for the remainder of the symphonic program.

A basic investment class for beginners will be conducted at the Emporium, Northgate Fashion Mall, starting at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday with two Marin County men on the teachers' platform.

Richard D. MacDonald of Marinwood and Gerald Woods of Tiburon, account executives with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, will jointly conduct the classes in financial investment, with the final session highlighted by "Fashions in Finance," a fashion show geared to the financially smart woman with her mind on fashion as well. (See photo on page S-8).

The schedule for classes will include "What Investment Is and What It Means to You," Wednesday; "What to Buy and How to Buy It,," June 12 at 2:30 p.m.; "Planning Your Investment Program" (plus Fashions in Finance), June 19 at 7:30 p.m.

All classes are free and will be held in the club room on the first floor of the Emporium, with a question and answer period following each session. For reservations, call or write The Emporium, Miss Tschida, Northgate Fashion Mall, San Rafael.

Art Teacher To Explain Acrylic Use

Joseph Annino, an accomplished artist and currently an art instructor at the University of Santa Clara, will be at the Emporium in Northgate Fashion Mall, tomorrow from 1 to 3 p.m. to demonstrate acrylic painting.

Annino has received awards in regional and national art competitions and has exhibited at many galleries and museums in Florida, where he received a M.A. degree at the University of Miami.

The media he will use is Hyplar, an acrylic from M. Grumbacher, In., manufacturer of artists' materials, which can be used for a variety of techniques — from oil painting effects to poster painting and collage work. Acrylics are water soluble paints, and dry quickly.

GIFT CERTIFICATES PRESENTED — Stewart Norton, president of the Northgate Mall Merchants Association, had many prizes to award in the recent Mother's Day contest at Northgate Fashion Mall in which 2,500 children entered their mothers' names in the drawing. Receiving a $50 gift certificate in this photograph is Mrs. Marjorie Rivas. Other mothers standing in the back are Mrs. David Cullen, Mrs. Marge Osborne, Mrs. Ann Phillips, Mrs. Elaine Levers and Mrs. Helen Regalia. At the left are Rebecca Osborne, Delphone Regalia, Elizabeth Cullen, Debbie Phillips, Laura Levers and Ronald Regalia. Mrs. Rivas is accompanied by her daughter Darlene.

Children Win Rewards For Own Mothers

A mother of 13 children, Mrs. Marjorie Rivas of San Anselmo, was named one of the winners of a $50 gift certificate for a shopping spree, in a Mother's Day drawing in which her 6-year-old daughter, Darlene, entered her name.

All children 16 years of age and under were invited to enter their mothers' names in the contest, which ran at the Northgate Fashion Mall for one week and drew over 2500 entries.

A free baby-sitting service, once a month for a year, was won by a Greenbrae mother, Mrs. David Cullen, and her daughter Elizabeth, 5. Laura Levers, 13, of Tiburon, won a housekeeping service for her mother, Mrs. Elaine Levers. A family flight over the Bay Area by SFO Helicopter Service was won for Mrs. Marge Osborne by her 11-year-old daughter, Rebecca, of San Anselmo.

Two family brunches at the Alta Mira Hotel were awarded to Mrs. Pat Gee of Corte Madera and Mrs. Ann Phillips of San Rafael. Two Novato mothers, Mrs. Hal Aguirre and Mrs. Dorothy Miller, received dinners for their families at the Dock Restaurant in Tiburon, overlooking the yacht harbor.

Other winners of $50 shopping sprees at Northgate Fashion Mall were Mrs. Helen Regalia of San Rafael, Mrs. Janet Bordessa of Petaluma and Mrs. Agnes Evans of Fairfax.

Children sponsoring their mothers in the contest were Carole Gee, 3; Debbie Phillips, 13; Mark Aguirre, 4; Chris Miller, 10; Delphine Regalia, 12; Gary Bordessa, 16 and Bobby Evans, 10.

Truck Ownership Finally Delivered

SCOTT CITY, Kan. (AP) — The mail does go through, but sometimes it takes a while. Such as the case recently when a letter arrived for Pete Hutchins from the Lane County treasurer. It contained ownership papers for a truck, and was mailed 37 years ago from Dighton, a distance of 24 miles.

The letter, bearing a two-cent stamp, was discovered behind a partition in the Dighton post office recently when the building was being remodeled.

Father's Day Style Luncheon Scheduled

Newest men's fashions and accessories will be modeled at a special champagne luncheon fashion show in honor of Father's Day, June 13 at 1 p.m. at the Hansa House Restaurant, Northgate Mall.

A collection of women's fashions from Northgate Mall stores — "Fashions Men Like" — will also be modeled by the Mannequin League of Marin.

The combination fashion parade will highlight an array of gift ideas for Father's Day. Both men and women are invited to attend.

Color is rampant in men's fashions for summer — with a range of new greens, golds and pale shades of brown appearing in new styles. More shaping in tailored suits, unusual sportswear combinations keynote the look for this season.

Women's fashions selected with men in mind will include flowing chiffons and voiles, cool silky clothes, lacy handmade looks and captivating cut-off dresses for beach and patio.

As a preview for the fall season, Cuir Savage ("the wild beast") will be shown — natural leathers and suedes in mini-skirts, dresses and women's suits.

Stores participating in the Northgate Mall fashion show include Adrienne's, Causal Aire, City of Paris, Emporium, Frank More, Hastings, House of Nine, H. Liebes, Lore-Jan, Modern Eve, Oxford Shop, and Roos Atkins.

African Survey

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Scientists have begun a study of selected ethnic groups in South Africa as part of the five-year International Biological Program in which 40 countries are taking part. They will examine the various stages of the groups in transition from peasant rural life to urban industrial existence.

Display To Explain How Atoms Make Electricity

A free tour into the world of atomic energy working to produce electricity will be sponsored by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. on June 7 and 8 at Northgate Fashion Mall.

A 40-foot trailer display will trace the history of electricity, with Benjamin Franklin and his kite, and show the five ways PG&E generates electric power — atomic, hydroelectric, gas or oil-fired steam and geothermal steam-electric generation (using natural steam from within the depths of the earth).

Visitors to the exhibit can push buttons and manually operate the displays, see remote control slide projectors and hear the story of atomic energy on tape. A model of an atomic fuel bundle will show how uranium is incorporated into an assembly which can be put inside an atomic reactor, and another will show what the fuel looks like inside a reactor.

The exhibit will be open for touring from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, at the north end of the Northgate Mall between the Emporium and Roos Atkins stores.

Primitive Start For Haiti Art

PORT-AU-PRINCE (AP) — Haiti is known for its primitive artists, most of whom started their careers in extremely primitive fashion.

Hector Hyppolite, the "father" of the movement, was discovered decorating fences using ordinary house enamel and a brush of chicken feathers.

What Law Applies When Driver's High On Pot?

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI)—A man drinks eight or ten beers, jumps into his car and drives off. He finds his vision blurred, his reactions slowed. He could be arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol.

But what if this same man had been to a marijuana party instead? What if he decided to take a drive after he reached his "high?" Aside from the illegality of marijuana smoking itself, is a law needed to guard the public against those driving under the influence of marijuana?

With the University of Washington, Craner is setting up a research project using a Link Driving Simulator. Experienced marijuana smokers will take a 15-minute "drive" with a scientifically-validated test film to see how their reactions differ when they are normal, under the influence of alcohol and under the influence of marijuana.

Referring to a recent estimate that as many as three million people in the United States might be using marijuana regularly, Crancer said the project was "number one priority research."

The research plan calls for testing of 24 experienced marijuana smokers. The subjects, whose identities are being kept confidential, are described as "licensed drivers who maintain normal social roles." Hippies and others belonging to any "drop-out subculture" have been excluded, Crancer said.

The smoking and drinking will be done in groups of three in a normal social setting, but under medical supervision.

Enough marijuana will be given for each subject to reach his high, and enough Screwdrivers to produce a blood-alcohol reading of .10 per cent, the standard of presumed drunkenness in some states.

The tests will begin as soon as the National Institute of Mental Health approves the use of confiscated stocks of marijuana. The Federal Bureau of Narcotics already has approved the study.

NEW 'SYSTEM 20' DESIGN

A new pace-setting concept in versatile furniture, called "System 20," functions beautifully with an array of components for thousands of design possibilities. Wall units "float in space," do double duty for storage, dining or working for any room in home or office. Shown here, a setting for sewing, with space for machine, patterns and fabric and wide, gleaming plastic work surface that wipes clean in a flash. Available in natural wood or colorful painted finishes at Interior Systems, Northgate Fashion Mall.

ANGELIC, ROMANTIC HAIRPIECES

Gay deceivers, these are long life and versatile accessories of human hair. They can be set, twirled or swirled into a multitude of styles to suit any mood. Available at Liebes, Northgate Fashion Mall.

Coloring Contest For Youngsters

More than 700 children have taken home entries to color for a special Father's Day coloring contest, sponsored by the Hansa House Restaurant at Northgate Fashion Mall.

The contest, which runs until June 12, is open to all children from ages 1 to 10. There will be a prize for every age group — a free dinner for Dad and Mother on Father's Day, June 16, at the Hansa House.

The Hansa House, serving Family style dinners from a buffet table, is open every day for lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and for dinner from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m., with dinner on Sunday served continuously from 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Worker Banishes Family's Curse

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A social worker has tracked down about 400 members of a South African family totalling more than 500 to tell them they may have or may develop an unusual type of hereditary cancer.

Mrs. Marie Torrington, of the Comprehensive Medicine Group at the University of Cape Town, said the family is scattered through the country under at least 25 different surnames.

Each person has to undergo examination of the colon for wartlike growths which indicate cancer will occur between the ages of 35 and 40. Surgery is generally a 100 per cent effective cure, she said. "With the news I bring them, they realize they are no longer the helpless victims of what many regarded as a curse on the family," said Mrs. Torrington.

Mermaid, Maybe?

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The fair sex is moving into another formerly male-dominated field. The top scholar in the well-known College of Fisheries at the University of Washington is a pretty 19-year-old coed, Mimi Schmidt of Seattle.

Javelin Sport Getting Risky

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Javelin throwing has suddenly become a highly dangerous sport here. In four days, three young people were hit by javelins on sports fields.
